men, to have them cease firing, which entirely disabled it. Corp. John Daly, James Skean, David Robinson Sanford W. Smith, William Strain, James Black and others, deserve much praise for the manner in which they conducted themselves. Mr. Jason Dame was on detached service at the time of the battle of Churubusco, and was not in that action, but at Chapultepec he distinguished himself for his bravery and good conduct. In fact, the whole company, with one or two exceptions, did their duty manfully, and I think the list of killed and wounded will show that they were not slow in walking up to the work, as we were the second company on the list in our regiment in point of loss.

"It now becomes my painful duty to rehearse the casualties which have happened to the brave little band I enlisted at Defiance, including, also, those who went to Toledo and joined the service there. Thomas Marks died at the close of the second day's march, and the next evening, while the companies were drilling, exercising in loading and firing, George Slough was struck in the leg with a ball, from the effects of which he died with the lockjaw at Perote. Jacob Smith, of Williams County, and Noble Robinson, from Evansport, were both attacked with diarrhoea on the march, and were left at the hospital at Perote—both since died. At Puebla, Mr. McMillan, from Williams County, died from the effects of a violent fever. On leaving Puebla, there were detained in the hospital at that place, Corp. Rogers, Corp. Garrison (brother-in-law to Henry Brubacher), Simon Smith, of Williams County, Anson Strever, of the same county, and Dutch Charley, or Charles Tuber. C. G. Andrews was killed by a posse of Mexican lancers while engaged with Joseph Clark in caring for a wounded comrade; Clark was badly cut up by the lancers, being badly wounded in the hand, arm and head; was left for dead, but came to and was picked up and conveyed to his regiment, where he partly recovered from his wounds, but was attacked with diarrhoea, which terminated his existence, and, in a few days afterward, James Skeen died with the same disease. Our Orderly Sergeant, Mace, was left sick at Vera Cruz, and Sergt. Ward at Puebla; neither of whom have yet arrived."

CHAPTER XIX.

MILITARY RECORD OF DEFIANCE COUNTY IN THE WAR OF THE REBELLION.

THE CALL FOR TROOPS.

At a meeting of the citizens of Defiance, held at the court house on the evening of April 16, 1861, in pursuance of a call made by many of the leading citizens of the town; S. S. Sprague was chosen chairman and S. A. Strong, Secretary. The chair briefly stated the object for which the meeting was called.

On motion, a committee of three was appointed by the chair to draft resolutions expressive of the sentiments of the meeting. E. H. Leland, Dr. Perry and J. P. Buffington were appointed as the committee.

Dr. Paul, William A. Brown, T. Fitzpatrick, E. H. Leland, Dr. Ruhl and others addressed the meeting in stirring and patriotic remarks. The Committee on Resolutions, through their chairman, reported the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we view the recent attack upon the National flag at Fort Sumter, while the Government was engaged in the peaceable and necessary duty of supplying our soldiers with provisions, as one of the most abominable of crimes—a crime against the Government and a direct and unpardonable insult to every loyal citizen of the United States.

Resolved, That the treasonable band of conspirators who are organized under the name of Confederate States, have by their crimes against the Government extending through a series of years, and finally culminating in frequent overt acts of treason, forfeited all the political rights which they have heretofore enjoyed. That they are entitled to no respect or consideration from the civilized world, and by the exercise of all power of men or money, it has become necessary to inflict upon them the just and speedy punishment which their crimes deserve.

Resolved, That to such an extent has treason been permitted to walk abroad, unpunished in our land, that it has now become a question of self-preservation; and all party feelings, and all party issues as heretofore existing should be entirely lost sight of; and until the question of the preservation of the Government shall be settled, we recognize no two classes of people, but two parties—Patriots and Traitors.

Resolved, That it is the imperative duty of every good citizen to uphold the President of the United States in his efforts to execute the laws of the United States in every portion of the Government and against all its enemies. All of which is respectfully submitted.

On motion it was ordered that the proceedings of the meeting be published in the village newspapers.

Party differences were ignored by common consent and sentiments of a determination to support the Government at all hazards were freely expressed.

S. S. SPRAGUE, Chairman.

S. A. STRONG, Secretary.

FOURTEENTH OHIO INFANTRY.

The Fourteenth Ohio Regiment was raised in the Tenth Congressional District of Ohio. Ten companies from Toledo, Bryan, Defiance, Stryker, Napoleon, Antwerp, Wauseon and Waterville were organized into the Fourteenth Regiment at Toledo, on the 24th of April, 1861, James B. Steedman being elected Colonel; George P. Estell, Lieutenant Colonel; Paul Edwards, Major. The President's proclamation for 75,000 men was promptly responded to, and in less than three days the Fourteenth Ohio was ready for the field, and on the 25th day of April, 1861 (just twelve days after the firing on Fort Sumter), it started from Toledo for Camp Taylor, near Cleveland, where it was thoroughly drilled and its organization completed. On the 18th of May, the regiment was transferred from the State to the General Government.

The regiment left Cleveland on the 22d day of May for Columbus, there received their arms and accouterments, and on the same day started for Zanesville, Ohio: arrived at 1 P. M. on the 23d and immediately embarked for Marietta. Occupied Camp Putnam until the 27th of May, then was ordered to embark for Parkersburg, Va., at which place it landed without opposition, and for the first time the regimental flag of the Fourteenth was unfurled in the enemy's country.

Immediately on its arrival, one company was double-quickened along the line of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, the bridges of which were being fired by retreating rebels, as a signal of the arrival of National troops in Western Virginia. Guards were then posted along the road to prevent further destruction, and on the 29th the regiment moved forward until Clarksburg was reached, having repaired all the burnt bridges and culverts up to that point. At Clarksburg, some important arrests were made and the trains were put to running for supplies.

On the 2d of June, the regiment started by rail for the town of Webster, supplied with rations sufficient for a march to Philippi, a distance of thirteen miles. This march was performed on a dark, dismal, rainy night, to surprise a force of about two thousand rebel cavalry in camp near that place. The march brought the regiment in front of the town at 5 A. M., when a battery belonging to the force opened upon the surprised rebels, who were badly frightened, and scattered to the bushes and hills as fast as their horses could carry them, some leaving their clothing and boots behind and making off almost in the Georgia costume of "a shirt and a pair of spurs." A few prisoners, all the rebel stores and five wagon loads of arms and munitions fell into the hands of the National force. On the National side, there were but four men wounded, including Col. Kelly, afterward Major General. One of the rebel cavalry had his leg taken off by a cannon ball. On the next day, the Fourteenth, in company with the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Ohio, Sixth and Seventh Indiana and First Virginia Infantry went into camp on the hills in the rear of the town of Philippi. On the 2d of July, 1861, the regiment received its first pay in gold and Ohio currency. On the 7th of July, the rebels began to show themselves in force at Laurel Hill, and works were thrown up at Bealington to repel their attacks. Several cavalry charges made by the enemy were handsomely repulsed. On the 12th, Gen. Garnett, having suddenly retreated, the National forces moved out of their works; the Fourteenth taking the advance, took possession of a fort; vacated by the enemy and pressed on after the retreating column. The rebels were closely pressed, the road being strewn with trunks, boxes, tents, stalled baggage wagons and "tuckered-out" rebels. In crossing Carrick's Ford, the enemy was obliged to make a stand to save their trains. Taking a strong position, they awaited the coming of the National forces. The advance guard of the Fourteenth was under the rebel guns before they were aware of it. The rebel flag was flaunted in their faces, and with shouts for Jeff Davis came a shower of balls from the bluff above and opposite the stream. The Fourteenth closed up to its advance guard and answered the enemy's first volley before the second had been fired. In twenty minutes, and just as the first regiment of the main column came up for action, the enemy gave way in great confusion, casting off everything that could retard escape. Over thirty well-laden baggage wagons, one battery, three stand of colors and 250 prisoners were the fruits of this victory. The next morning the regiment returned toward Philippi with the prisoners and captured train, fording at least six rivers and creeks swollen by the heavy rains, arriving at Philippi on the 15th of July. The Fourteenth remained in camp at Laurel Hill until the 22d, when it moved to and crossed the Ohio at Bellaire, and there took cars on the Central Ohio for Toledo and home. The wounded received great attention from the people along the road, and the regiment was tendered ovations and kindnesses without number. It arrived at Toledo on the 25th of July, where it was hailed by the ringing of bells and firing of cannon. After partaking of a sumptuous feast, prepared by the citizens at the Oliver House, the regiment dispersed.

After a few days' rest at home the men reassembled, and again volunteered in a body for three years, or during the war. On the 23d of August, 1816, the Fourteenth received orders, and moved from Toledo to Cincinnati on the same day, reaching there in the evening. It was here supplied with arms and accouterments, and on the morning of the 25th crossed the Ohio to Covington, Ky., and took cars for Lexington and Frankfort. Remaining in Frankfort two days, the regiment moved by cars to Nicholasville, and established a camp of rendezvous, where for three weeks it was engaged in daily drill and was thoroughly disciplined. Camp Dick Robinson was its next stopping place, and was reached on the evening of October 2. While there, a regiment of loyal East Tennesseans arrived, having, as the men said, crawled on all fours through the rebel lines. Among these brave and self-sacrificing loyal mountaineers were the then Tennessee United States Senator, Andrew Johnson, and Horace Maynard, Congressman, on their way to Washington, D. C. Col. Steedman, of the Fourteenth, invited Johnson to share his tent for the night. The rough attire and begrimed appearance of Johnson caused "the boys" of the regiment to remark that "old Jim Steedman" would invite "Andy" to a free use of soap before he would allow him to bunk with him. The East Tennesseans being without arms, discipline or drill, a detail was made from the Fourteenth for the purpose of perfecting them in drill. About this time rumors were rife that the National forces stationed at or near Wild Cat, a desolate region sixty miles south-east of Camp Dick Robinson, were surrounded by the rebels. The Fourteenth, with Barnett's First Ohio Artillery, started at once for Wild Cat, making forced marches through the deep mud and driving rain, and reached there at 9 A. M. of the 21st of October. On nearing the battle-field the crash of musketry and artillery was heard. This spurred the excited troops, who were going into their first engagement, and they double-quickened to the point of attack. Barnett's artillery was placed in position and the enemy shelled. Five companies of the Thirty-third Indiana were on a wild knob, almost completely surrounded by the rebels. Under cover of a brisk fire from Barnett's battery, two companies of the Fourteenth, with picks and shovels, crawled through the bushes over a ravine, and reached the knob, fortified it in such a manner that the enemy shortly abandoned the siege and retreated toward London, Ky. The rebels left on the ground about thirty of their number killed and wounded. The National forces pursued the rebels under Zollicoffer, to a point near London, and then went into camp for some two weeks. Orders were received to march back toward Lancaster, passing through Crab Orchard and Mt. Vernon. The next point was Lebanon, at which place the troops went into winter quarters.

On the 31st of December, the camp at Lebanon was abandoned and the march resumed, taking the route toward Somerset or Mill Springs. At Logan's Cross Roads, the rebels under Zollicoffer were met and defeated. Only one company of the Fourteenth participated in this—Company C, Capt. J. W. Brown, of Toledo.

Following up their success, the National troops pursued and drove the rebels into their fortifications at Mill Springs. The night of the 19th of January was consumed in cannonading the enemy's works. Early on the morning of the 20th, a general assault was ordered and executed, the rebel works carried, twenty pieces of artillery, all the camp equipage and one regiment of men captured. The main body of rebels crossed the Cumberland River in a steamer and escaped, burning the steamer as they left. In the charge which carried the works, the Fourteenth was the first regiment to enter. Pushing on after the flying enemy, the regiment reached the bank of the river in time to fire into the rear of the retreating column as it was boarding the steamer. The National forces remained at Mill Springs until the 11th of February. Then with five days' rations the line of march was resumed toward Louisville, passing through Stanford, Somerset, Danville and intermediate places, arriving at Louisville on the 26th. Marching through the city the Fourteenth was placed on board of transports, and in company with 20,000 other troops left for Nashville, arriving there on the 4th of March. Remaining in and around Nashville, building fortifications and perfecting the drill of the men, until the 20th of March, the necessity of re-enforcing Gen. Grant's forces at Pittsburg Landing being apparent, Gen. Buell marched with the greater part of his army, reaching Savannah on the 6th of April. Taking steamers, a portion of the troops were landed on the field at Pittsburg Landing, on the morning of the 7th of April, in time to participate in the engagement of that day, turning the tide of battle in favor of the National army. The Fourteenth did not come up in time to participate. On the night of the 12th of April, the regiment was sent on an expedition to Chickasaw Landing, in the vicinity of which five or six bridges were destroyed, thus preventing the enemy from being re-enforced. In effecting this destruction several severe skirmishes were had. The regiment was taken back to Pittsburg Landing on a steamer, on board of which was Gen. Sherman, who publicly thanked the men for the service they had performed. The Fourteenth rejoined its brigade, and with the vast army then concentrated under Gen. Halleck, shared in the slow advance on Corinth. The only death in the regiment during the siege was that of sifer Frank Callern, of heart disease. The regiment joined in pursuing the enemy to the vicinity of Booneville, Miss., where the chase was abandoned, the National troops returning to Corinth. On the 23d of June, 1862, the Fourteenth with other troops was sent to Iuka, Miss., and from there marched to Tuscombua, Ala. After doing duty of various kinds in and around this place, the line of march was resumed toward Nashville, Tenn., passing through Florence, Fayetteville, Pulaski, etc. On this march, Gen. Robert L. McCook was murdered by guerrillas near Waynesburg, Tenn. Nashville was reached on the 7th of September. On the 14th, marching orders were received for Bowling Green, Ky. This march was made in pursuit of Bragg's army, which was then moving on to Louisville, Ky., which was reached on the 26th day of September, 1862. On this march, the Fourteenth Ohio was under command of Maj. Paul Edwards, Col Steedman having been assigned to Gen Robert L. McCook's late command, and Lieut Col. Este being absent on furlough. The march from Nashville to Louisville was one of great hardship, the weather being intensely hot, the roads very dusty and water almost unattainable. On the 1st of October, the National army, under Gen. Buell, moved out of Louisville and resumed the pursuit of Bragg's rebel army. Marching by the Bardstown road, the Fourteenth in the advance, Springfield, Ky., was reached on the second day and Bardstown on the third. On the 9th day of October, the brigade in which the Fourteenth was acting, was detailed as headquarter and ammunition train guard, and for that reason did not participate in the battle of Perryville fought on that day. Gen. Buell's army moved in pursuit of the rebels, marching through Danville and Crab Orchard, where the pursuit was abandoned and the National forces commenced a retrograde movement toward Nashville. Gallatin was reached on the 15th of November, where the brigade, in which the Fourteenth Ohio was acting, went into winter quarters. While at this place, the regiment was frequently detailed on scouting duty against the guerrilla (Gen. John Morgan's) cavalry, with which it had several severe skirmishes, losing some men. At Rolling Fork, Morgan was badly whipped and driven off, thus preventing a contemplated raid against Louisville. The regiment remained at Gallatin until January 13, 1863, engaged in similar duty. Leaving Gallatin, Nashville was reached on the 15th day of January, and after a day's rest in that city the regiment marched to Murfreesboro as guard to an ammunition and provision train, returning the same night to Lavergne, where the brigade was engaged in fortifying against the enemy. On the 3d day of June, the regiment and brigade left Lavergne and took up the line of march for Triune, Tenn., forming a portion of Rosecrans' advance on Tullahoma and Chattanooga. At Triune, twenty days were consumed in rigid drill, giving time to allow the necessary supplies to come up. The march being resumed, Hoover's Gap was reached on the night of the 26th of June, a brisk engagement coming off at that point, in which the Fourteenth participated with its brigade. Thirty men were lost in killed and wounded in this affair. The vicinity of Tullahoma was reached on the evening of the 28th of June, and the enemy's videttes driven in. That night, Capt. Neubert's picket detail, of the Fourteenth Ohio, drove in the enemy's line of pickets and reached a point so near the town as to enable him to discover that the rebels were evacuating the place. This important information was immediately sent to headquarters by Capt. Neubert, and caused the advance, early the next morning, of the National forces. Elk River was crossed with great difficulty, that stream being quite deep with a swift current, and a number of men were drowned. A spur of the Cumberland Mountains was crossed and the National forces encamped in Sequatchie Valley on the 18th of August, near Sweden Cove. On the 31st of August, the army crossed the Tennessee River by means of rafts, the pontoons not being on hand. On the 19th of September, the enemy was discovered in force on Chickamauga Creek. The Fourteenth Ohio, under command of Lieut. Col. Kingsbury, was immediately deployed in line of battle. The men were not in the best trim to engage in a fatiguing day's work, having marched incessantly all of the previous day and night, but they were ready and willing to perform their whole duty, and did it nobly. The regiment was engaged in hot and close contest from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M.; being then relieved, it replenished its ammunition boxes, and again entered the fight, continuing it until sundown. That night it fell back one mile and went into camp. The next morning at 9 o'clock the regiment again entered the field and had a desperate encounter with a portion of Longstreet's rebel division. An unfortunate gap being left open by mistake in Thomas' line, the whole National force was compelled to fall back to prevent being overwhelmed. The village of Rossville was its stopping point. On the 21st of September, the regiment with its brigade and division, was in line of battle all day, but was again compelled to give ground and fall back into hastily-constructed intrenchments near Chattanooga, the enemy following closely. The regiment went into the battle with 449 men. Out of that number it lost 233, killed, wounded and missing. Fourteen enlisted men were captured by the enemy. Of fourteen officers, eight were severely wounded; among them Capts. Albert Moore, Company A; H. W. Bigelow, Company I; Dan Pomeroy, Company D; W. B. Pugh, Company H; J. J. Clark, Company C; and Lieut. James E. McBride, Company F. Col. Croxton, of the Tenth Kentucky, commanding the brigade, was also severely wounded. To procure rations on one occasion during the ensuing beleaguerment at Chattanooga, a detail of 100 men from the Fourteenth, under Capt. Neubert, was sent to Stevenson, Ala., crossing the rugged mountain between that place and Chattanooga. This detail started on a march of eleven days' duration with only one day's rations. After encountering terrible hardships, subsisting on parched corn, leaving along the roads the wrecks of more than half their wagons and the dead bodies of twenty mules, Stevenson was reached; ten wagons out of the sixty they started with were loaded with "hard-tack" and the return journey commenced. After twenty-five days' absence, this detail reached Chattanooga (9th of November) and distributed their precious freight among the famished troops.

In the brilliant assault on Mission Ridge, the Fourteenth Ohio bore a gallant part, charging and capturing a rebel battery of three guns, which Gen. Hardee in person was superintending, losing sixteen killed, ninety-one wounded and three missing. On the 26th of November, the National forces started in pursuit of the rebel army toward Ringgold, at which point the enemy made a stand on the 28th. Gen. Hooker's forces being in the advance, made a charge on the rebels, but were driven back. The Fourteenth corps coming up, formed a line of battle and charged the rebel position, but the enemy had fled toward Buzzard's Roost. The Fourteenth Ohio returned to Chattanooga on the 29th of November and was reviewed by Gen. Grant on the 1st of December, 1863. Of those that were eligible, all but thirty men of the entire regiment re-enlisted for another term of three years. This occurred on the 17th of December. On Christmas Day, the mustering of the men commenced, and by working hard all day and through the night the rolls were completed. Marching to Bridgeport on the 31st of December, the Fourteenth Ohio then took the cars and reached Nashville on the 2d day of January, 1864. On this trip the cold was so intense as to freeze the feet of several colored servants, belonging to the regiment, so badly as to make amputation necessary. From Nashville the regiment went by cars to Louisville, and thence by boat to Cincinnati, arriving at that city on the morning of the 4th of January. Cars were at once taken for Toledo, the home of the regiment, where it was warmly received by the citizens, and addressed in their behalf by the Hon. M. R. Waite. On the 6th day of February, the thirty days' furlough having expired, the regiment moved by rail to Cleveland and there went into camp. Remaining there about a week, it started for Cincinnati and the front, reaching Nashville on the 23d of February and Chattanooga on the 29th.

On the 5th day of March, the regiment moved to Ringgold, where it performed hard duty in building corduroy roads between that place and Chattanooga, picketing outposts, etc.

On the 9th day of May, it moved with its brigade on Dalton, driving in the enemy's videttes to the vicinity of Tunnel Hill, there encountering the enemy in force. At this point commenced that long, fatiguing campaign for the possession of Atlanta, the "Gate City" of the extreme South. The Fourteenth, in all the marches and the almost incessant skirmishes and flanking movements of that campaign, bore an honorable part. It lost heavily in men and officers. While lying in front of Atlanta, the regiment lost twenty men killed and wounded.

On the 26th of August, a flanking movement was commenced toward Jonesboro, and on the 31st, the Atlanta & Western Railroad was struck five miles north of Jonesboro, where 200 prisoners were captured. On the 1st of September, the Third Division of the Fourteenth Army Corps, in which was brigaded the Fourteenth Ohio, continued the movement in the direction of Jonesboro, destroying the track of the railroad as it marched. At 4:30 P. M. of that day, the Third Division (Gen. Baird) confronted the enemy's works surrounding Jonesboro. The Third Brigade, in command of Col. Este, of the Fourteenth Ohio, of Baird's division, was drawn up in line of battle in the immediate rear of a regular brigade of Gen. Carlin's division, which had just made an unsuccessful charge on the rebel works in the edge of the woods on the opposite side of a large corn-field. Col. Este, with his brigade, consisting of the Fourteenth and Thirty-eighth Ohio, Tenth Kentucky and Seventy-fourth Indiana stood ready for the fight. Col. Este gave the order, "Battalions, forward!—guide center!" and Gen. Baird waved his hand for the "forward." The lines moved steadily forward amid a shower of balls. A battery opened with grape and canister, but the brigade moved steadily on. The edge of the timber was gained, and, with a yell and a charge, the rebel works were gained, and a hand-to-hand conflict ensued. The rebels belonged to Gen. Pat Cleburne's division, and contested the ground with great stubbornness and bravery. It was not until many of them were killed with the cold steel that they would surrender. They finally succumbed and were marched to the rear as prisoners. The Fourteenth took nearly as many prisoners as the regiment numbered, a battery of four guns, several stands of colors and two lines of trenches full of men. All this was not accomplished without sad cost. The brigade lost thirty-three per cent of its number. One hundred members of the Fourteenth, whose time had expired, went willingly into the fight, some of whom were killed and many wounded. After the Jonesboro fight, the brigade in which the Fourteenth was acting, marched back to Atlanta, leaving the pursuit of the enemy to other troops. The Fourteenth next followed in pursuit of Hood's troops, on their advance into Tennessee, as far up as Rome, where the chase was abandoned and the brigade returned to Kingston, Ga., reaching there on the 6th of November. It next joined Gen. Sherman's forces at Atlanta, and participated in the "march to the sea;" then came the march through the Carolinas to Goldsboro and Raleigh. At Raleigh the surrender of Lee and his army near Richmond was promulgated to the National forces. The surrender of Johnston quickly followed, and then the march up to the capital of the nation, where the grand armies of the republic passed in review before the President and Cabinet. On the 15th of June, the Fourteenth Ohio started from Washington by rail for Parkersburg, on the Ohio River, arriving there on the 18th of June. It immediately embarked on boats and was taken to Louisville, Ky. Remaining in camp at that place until the 11th day of July, when the regiment was mustered out of the service and returned to its home, reaching Toledo on the 13th of July, 1865, after over four years of as honorable and active a career as that of any regiment in the army.

COMPANY D.

April 20, 1861, Sidney S. Sprague commenced enrolling a company, which was speedily filled and another started. April 23, the first company elected officers as follows: Sidney S. Sprague, Captain; William J. Irvine, First Lieutenant; and Charles Kahlo, Second Lieutenant. A farewell meeting was held that night at which a silk flag, prepared by the ladies, was presented, and the company, numbering 105, left in the cars that evening for Cleveland.

TWENTY-FIRST OHIO INFANTRY.

The Twenty-first Ohio was organized at Camp Taylor, near Cleveland, on the 27th day of April, 1861, with the following officers:

Jesse S. Norton, Colonel.

James M. Neibling, Lieutenant Colonel.

A. J. Taylor, Major.

It moved on the 23d of May, passing through Columbus, where it received its arms, to Gallipolis. It went into camp at that place and remained there until the 3d of July, when it moved to Ravenswood, by order of Gen. McClellan, to re-enforce the Seventeenth Ohio, then expecting an attack from O. Jennings Wise, whose forces lay at a little town called Ripley, twelve or fifteen miles from the river. The National forces under Col. Norton, of the Twenty-first Ohio, disembarked at 11 o'clock at night, made a forced march to Ripley, surprised the rebels and drove them from the place. The expedition then returned by steamer to Gallipolis. A day or two after this, Col. Norton made a reconnoissance up the Kanawha River, and captured forty prominent rebel citizens as hostages for the good treatment and safe return of some loyal Virginians captured by the notorious Jenkins. Col. Norton also led an expedition to Jenkins' farm, just below Guyandotte, consisting of Company F, Capt. George F. Walker, and Company C, Lieut. A. McMahan, and captured a steamboat load of cattle, horses, corn, etc., for the use of the army, and once more returned to their camp at Gallipolis. On the 11th of July, Gen. Cox took command of the brigade, consisting of the Eleventh, Twelfth and Twenty-first Ohio, the First and Second Kentucky, Cotter's First Ohio Battery of two guns, and Capt. George's Cavalry, and marched to Red House, on the Kanawha River. At this point Col. Norton was ordered to make a reconnoissance for the purpose of discovering the rebel position. Company F, Capt. George F. Walker, Company H, Capt. A. M. Blackman, and Company G, Capt. Lovell, with a portion of Capt. George's Cavalry, started under command of Col. Norton, early on Sunday morning, the 14th of July, moving on three different roads, all terminating at a little village on Scarey Creek, where it emptied into the Kanawha River. After marching some eight miles, the enemy's pickets were encountered in a church, from which they fired and fell back on their main body. Skirmishers were thrown out by Col. Norton, which developed the enemy in force on the opposite bank of the creek, occupying a strong position, with a full battery. After developing the strength of the rebels, the National troops fell back two miles, and at 12 o'clock that night were re-enforced by the remaining companies of the Twenty-first Ohio and part of the Second Kentucky, under Lieut. Col. Enyart; but lacking artillery, Col. Norton thought it best to fall back and await the arrival of the main body. On the 15th the main body, under Gen. Cox, arrived, and on the morning of the 17th Col. Lowe was placed in command of a force consisting of his own regiment, Company K, Capt. S. A. Strong, and Company D, Capt. Thomas G. Allen, of the Twenty-first, Capt. Cotter's two rifle guns, and a portion of Capt. George's Cavalry, as an attacking column, and ordered to drive the enemy from his position. The fight opened at great disadvantage to the Nationals, from the fact that their old United States smooth-bore muskets did not carry far enough to reach the enemy, who were stationed in the bed of the creek and protected by its high banks. Col. Norton, seeing the disadvantage, determined to drive the enemy out of the creek with the bayonet, and as a preliminary

In Memoriam

Capt. John Partee, son of John and Nancy Partee, was born near Adelphi, Ross county, Ohio, May 16th, 1812, and died at his residence near Brunersburg, March 19th, 1886, aged 73 years, 10 months and 4 days. He was the youngest child and last survivor of a family of ten children. The older were George, Elizabeth, James, Joseph, Enoch, Deborah, Lewis, Lawrence, and Hannah. His brothers, James, Joseph and Enoch came to what is now Brunersburg, 1817, to 1822. His father was a teamster in the war of 1812, and his brothers James and Joseph were privates in Capt. Duncan McArthur's (afterward Governor of Ohio) company and were stationed at the ill fated field of Raisin at the time of Hull's surrender of Detroit. At the age of 19 years, he came from Ross county, Ohio, to the farm of his father's family, and settled on the farm in Noble township, where he resided till his death, a period of nearly 62 years. This was 1824, and government lands being cheap, different members of the family bought several tractions lying along Tiffin river, from Brunersburg to the present site of Transport. Among the other early settlers were John Perkins (who came in 1816), William Travis, John Wisler, Brice Hill-ton, Enoch Partee, William Doty, Obadiah Webb, William Buck and John Lawrence. His uncle, Enoch Williams was also in the war and his discharge, written at Lower Sandusky in 1814 is in possession of J. P. Partee of Defiance. Among other interesting papers handed down from early times is a summons from Sheriff Preston to John Partee, Sr. to attend court in Defiance as juror, and dated 1826, also a deposition filed by him in 1804. In their route from Ross county they came by way of Sidney and Wakarusa thence down the river to old Fort Defiance which was still partially preserved as was old Fort Winchester which was not far from the present site of the Russell House. At that time there were but two houses on the Tiffin river near Defiance. These were occupied by John Perkins and Joseph Partee. After stopping all night at Joseph's they cut their way to what is now the old homestead, then an unbroken wilderness, inhabited by wild beasts and Indians. The latter were generally friendly disposed toward the new comers, and they made the acquaintance of some noted chiefs among them, Occoonoxe, a Pottawatomie, and an old man named Shane who stated he was born under the large apple tree near the bank of the river across from Defiance. Large numbers of bullets were found on the banks of the Maumee, and some times brass kettles were found hidden in hollow trees, no doubt left there by the Indians. The subject of our sketch was in early life a great hunter and trapper, and even if memoranda were at hand it would require a volume to give a full account of his life, of his privations in the early development of the country, his hardships in subduing the wilderness, and his struggles in company with the early pioneers. He loved to range the woods, the early development of the country, his hardships in subduing the wilderness, and his struggles in company with the early pioneers. He loved to range the woods, where Nature had erected her throne, and in the last years of his life, when age had enfeebled his once athletic frame, he was as skilled with the rifle as most young men of his day. Of the history of his ancestors but little is known with certainty. Those on his mother's side were from Holland and on his father's, natives of France. No family record was made and the date and place of birth of his parents were unknown, nor was the ages of most of his brothers and sisters correctly known.

About 1841 he was appointed Captain of a company of Ohio militia and rose to the rank of Major, and again in 1861 he was elected Captain of a company of Home Guards.

Oct. 10th, 1839 he was married to Miss Nancy Brown, who survives him. To them were born 7 children 5 of whom are living. Alvaro the eldest was killed in the war of the rebellion and Reuben B. died in infancy. About 1840 his parents removed to near Pulasai, Ohio, where his mother soon after died, his father then returned and died at the residence of his son, in 1846, aged about 81 years. At the time of his death, Father Partee had been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church for a period of more than a third of a century, having united with that branch in 1852, during which time had held many important official positions in the church, and while in him it could sometimes be seen that it was human to err, yet those who knew him best always recognized in him the ever obliging neighbor, the honest and upright citizen, a true and affectionate husband, and the kind and indulgent father. For two years last past he had been a patient sufferer, partly from a slight attack of paralysis, and in part from injuries received by the kick of a horse. The cause of his death was dropsy of the heart, consequent from injuries received last July, at which time he was seriously injured internally by being run over by a drunken and reckless driver. During his last suffering he was patient and resigned, and conscious almost to his last moments, and rejoicing in the Christian's hope and promise that beyond the dark cloud of suffering there was a happier world above. Appropriate services were held Sunday, March 21st, at Rural chapel, conducted by Rev. S. W. Scott, after which the remains were quietly interred in the family lot in the Webb Run cemetery, on the pleasant banks of the river over whose surface he loved to glide more than three score years ago, and the music of whose rushing waters shall be his requiem as from a deserted bedside there runs back tender memories to a grave of buried lore.

Alvaro the oldest was killed in the war of the rebellion and Reuben B. died in infancy. About 1840 his parents removed to near Putaski, Ohio, where his mother soon after died, his father then returned and died at the residence of his son. In 1846, aged about 31 years. At the time of his death, Father Paries had been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church for a period of more than a third of a century, having united with that branch in 1852, during which time had held many important official positions in the church, and while in him it could sometimes be seen that it was human to err, yet those who knew him best always recognized in him the ever obliging neighbor, the honest and upright citizen, a true and affectionate husband, and the kind and indulgent father. For two years last past he had been a patient sufferer, partly from a slight attack of paralysis, and in part from injuries received by the kick of a horse. The cause of his death, was dropsy of the heart, consequent from injuries received last July, at which time he was seriously injured internally by being run over by a drunken and reckless driver. During his last suffering he was patient and resigned, and conscious almost to his last moments, and rejoicing in the christian's hope and promise that beyond the dark cloud of suffering there was a happier world above. Appropriate services were held Sunday, March 21st, at Rural chapel, conducted by Rev. S. W. Scott, after which the remains were quietly interred in the family lot in the Webb Run cemetery, on the pleasant banks of the river over whose surface he loved to glide more than three score years ago, and the music of whose rushing waters shall be his requiem as from a deserted bedside there run back tender memories to a grave of buried love.

Memorandum

Capt. John Parlee, son of John and Nancy Parlee, was born near Adelphi, Ross county, Ohio, May 16th, 1812, and died at his residence near Brunersburg, March 19th, 1886, aged 73 years, 10 months and 4 days. He was the youngest child and last survivor of a family of ten children. The older were George, Elizabeth, James, Joseph, Enoch, Deborah, Lewis, Lawrence, and Hannah. His brothers, James, Joseph and Enoch, came to what is now Brunersburg, 1817, to 1822. His father was a teamster in the war of 1812, and his brothers James and Joseph were privates in Capt. Duncan McArthur's (afterward Governor of Ohio) company, and were stationed at the ill fated field of River Raisin at the time of Hull's surrender at Detroit. At the age of 19 years he came from Ross county, with the rest of his father's family, and settled on the farm in Noble township, where he resided till his death, a period of nearly 62 years. This was 1824, and government lands, being cheap, different members of the family bought several tractions lying along Tiffin river, from Brunersburg to the present site of Evansport. Among the other early settlers were John Perkins (who came in 1816), William Travis, John Wisler, Brice Hill-ton, Enoch Parlee, William Doty, Obadiah Webb, William Buck, and John Lawrence. His uncle, Enoch Williams was also in the war and his discharge, written at Lower Sandusky in 1814 is in possession of J. P. Parlee of Defiance. Among other interesting papers handed down from early times is a summons from Sheriff Preston to John Parlee, Sr. to attend court in Defiance as a juror, and dated 1826, also a deposition filed by him in 1804. In their route from Ross county they came by way of Sidney and Wakarusa, thence down the river to old Fort Defiance which was still partially preserved as was old Fort Winchester which was not far from the present site of the Russell House. At that time there were but two houses on the Tiffin river near Defiance. These were occupied by John Perkins and Joseph Parlee. After stopping all night at Joseph's they cut their way to what is now the old homestead, then an unbroken wilderness, inhabited by wild beasts and Indians. The latter were generally friendly disposed toward the new comers, and they made the acquaintance of some noted chiefs, among them Oconoxee, a Potawatomie, and an old man named Shane who stated he was born under the large apple tree near the bank of the river across from Defiance. Large numbers of bullets were found on the banks of the Maumee, and some times brass kettles were found hid in hollow trees; no doubt left there by the Indians. The subject of our sketch was in early life a great hunter and trapper, and even if memoranda were at hand it would require a volume to give a full account of his life, of his privations in the early development of the country, his hardships in subduing the wilderness, and his struggles in company with the early pioneers. He loved to range the woods, the early development of the country, his hardships in subduing the wilderness, and his struggles in company with the early pioneers. He loved to range the woods, where Nature had erected her throne, and in the last years of his life, when age had enfeebled his once athletic frame, he was as skilled with the rifle as most young men of his day. Of the history of his ancestors but little is known with certainty. Those on his mother's side were from Holland and on his father's natives of France. No family record was made and the date and place of birth of his parents were unknown, nor was the ages of most of his brothers and sisters correctly known.

About 1841 he was appointed Captain of a company of Ohio militia and rose to the rank of Major, and again in 1861 he was elected captain of a company of Home Guards.

Oct. 10th, 1839 he was married to Miss Nancy Brown who survives him. To them were born 7 children 5 of whom are living. Alvaro the oldest was killed in the war of the rebellion and Reuben B. died in infancy. About 1840 his parents removed to near Pulaski, Ohio, where his mother soon after died, his father then returned and died at the residence of his son. In 1848, aged about 31 years. At the time of his death, Father Parlee had been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church for a period of more than a third of a century, having united with that branch in 1852, during which time had held many important official positions in the church, and while in him it could sometimes be seen that it was human to err, yet those who knew him best always recognized in him the ever obliging neighbor, the honest and upright citizen, a true and affectionate husband, and the kind and indulgent father. Biographical Sketch

Media Obj

John Partee, the youngest of a family of ten children was born in Colerain township, near Adelphi, Ross County, Ohio, May 15, 1812, came to what is now Defiance County with his parents when 12 years of age, a large portion of the succeeding 15 years of his life were spent in hunting and wild game that abounded in the surrounding wilderness. Often when a little boy I have listened to his stories of adventure, especially remember one in which he climbed a tall dead tree, which overhung the deep waters of Tiffin River, to watch a deer lick as he seated himself in the branches, gun in hand in the darkness of night, the tree suddenly broke off at the ground, the result can easily be imagined. Old Fort Defiance was partially preserved at the time of their coming, and from what is now Brunersburg, not even a trace was cut through the woods, to the place of settlement. In the latter part of the 40's he was elected captain of the Ohio State Militia and rose to the rank of Major. Father Partee lived on the old farm, the remainder of his life, whereas a man of upright Christian character, his life was an open book. The circumstances of his death were those of peculiar sadness. On July 11, _____ while returning from the City riding in his buggy, he was run down by a drunken man and received injuries from which he never fully recovered. Taken home he hovered between life and death, for some weeks but at least partially recovered and went about his daily duties, but in the following winter and internal injuries caused him to gradually decline, resulting in his death on the 19 of March, 1886, aged nearly 74 years. A member of the M.E. church for 35 years, Nancy Brown 2nd. child of Reuben and Sarah Brown, was born in Jackson County, Ohio May 12, 1821, removed with her fathers family to this farm in 1833, was married to John Partee Oct. 10, 1839. Mother Partee though bowing under the weight of four score years is still hearty and vigorous having attained an age greater than any member of the family. There are witnesses living today who knew her at the age of 19 years to stand in a half bushel and shoulder two bushels of wheat. Of their family of seven children Alvaro born in 1840 was killed in the battle of Chicamegua during the Civil War in 1863, Reuben an infant son died in 1844, Sirena born in 1845, married to Malon Erman in 1868, died 1893, of their five children Elvin lives in Nebr., John married to Miss Bowers lives in Evansport, Edwin married to Miss Patten lives on the home farm, Alma and Hazel still live at home. Mahala Partee married Wm. Bayes in 1870, their son Roy married to Miss Fickle and daughter Florence live in Farmer Township. Frank Partee married to Melinda Wolff June 12, 1873, three children, Florence and Ray at home, and Minnie married to C.G. Blanchard lived in Toledo. Warren A. Partee born May 1, 1855, married to Lydia J. Snider in Dec. 1853, have four children, Gladys, Rowena, Winter and Blake. Mrs. Partee died Jan 29, 1894. Clara Partee was married to W.O. Wissler Dec. 1880, with their three children, Karl, Ethel, and Donald live near Evansport. The old homestead farm passed out of the hands of the Partee family about one year ago, after remaining in the family for a period of 77 years.

Nancy Brown Parker

Born May 12
1821

L. E. BEARDSLEY,

Died

DEFIANCE, OHIO.

DEATH OF A PIONEER LADY.

Mrs. Nancy Partee Passes Away at a Ripe Old Age at Farmer Center.

Nancy Party, one of Defiance county's Mothers in Israel, and a pioneer who enjoyed the esteem of a large circle of acquaintances, passed to her reward Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Bayes, at Farmer Center, where she had been staying about a year, at the ripe old age of 81 years. Her trouble was cancer. She was born in Ross county, O., and came to Defiance county in 1830.

For about sixty years she resided on the Old Partee homestead farm adjoining the county infirmary farm on the south. Her husband, Capt. John Partee preceded her to the grave about fifteen years ago. He cleared the woods off the farm above mentioned and they resided there since they first came here, entering the land from the government. Mrs. Partee always considered the old place her home to the time of her death.

The children living are Mrs. Wm. Bayes, Farmer Center; Mrs. J. O. Wissler, Defiance; Warren Partee, Angola, Ind.; Frank Partee, Defiance; Alvaro died in the army; Mrs. Mahala Ehrman is also dead; one died in infancy.

Funeral Saturday leaving the house at Farmer at 9 a. m. and services at Rural Chapel church at 10:30, conducted by Rev. S. L. Roberts. Deceased was a devout Methodist all her life and a sweet christian character which endeared her to all her associates.

NOTE.—The provision of the act of March 1, 1889, under which this special enumeration of survivors of the war of the rebellion is made, reads as follows:

That said Superintendent shall, under the authority of the Secretary of the Interior, cause to be taken on a special schedule of inquiry, according to such form as he may prescribe, the names, organizations, and length of service of those who have served in the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps of the United States in the war of the rebellion, and who are survivors at the time of said inquiry, and the widows of soldiers, sailors, or marines.

The entries concerning each survivor or widow should be carefully and accurately made, so that the printed reports may contain only thoroughly trustworthy information.

Spaces are provided on this special schedule for the entry of fifty names, or, more properly, terms of service. The spaces are numbered consecutively from 1 to 50, and cover the four pages comprised in each schedule. The inquiries made concerning each survivor or widow call for the repetition of the number of the house and family as returned on the general population schedule (No. 1), the name, rank, company, regiment or vessel, date of enlistment, date of discharge, and length of service (in years, months, and days) on the upper half of each page, and the post-office address, disability incurred, and general remarks on the lower half of each page. The column headed "Remarks" is intended to be used to cover any points not included in the foregoing inquiries, and which are necessary to a complete statement of a person's term of service in any one organization.

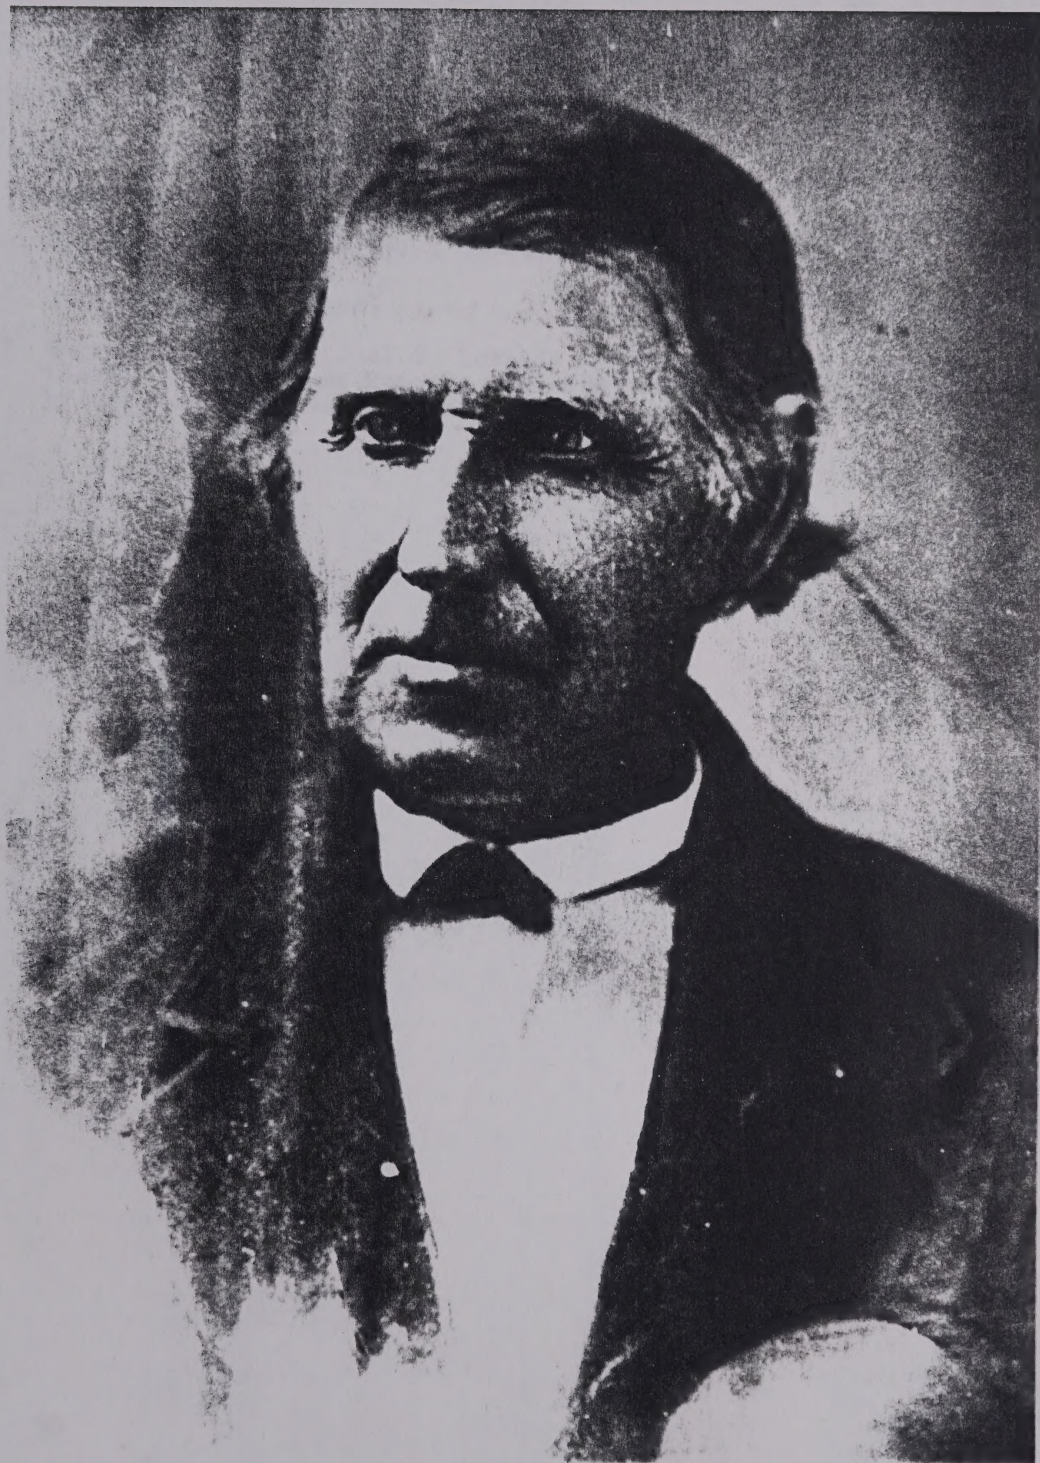

In the case of persons having served in more than one organization, use as many spaces as may be necessary to cover their various terms of service. In the case of widows of deceased soldiers, sailors, or marines, make the entry of her name on the dotted line, as follows: Mary J., widow of John J., filling out the record of his service during the war, and giving under "Post-office address" the present address of his widow. ~~John~~ John Partee Nancy w^m S.

John Partee, the youngest of a family of ten children was born in Colerain township, near Adelphi, Ross County, Ohio, May 15, 1812, came to what is now Defiance County with his parents when 12 years of age, a large portion of the succeeding 15 years of his life were spent in hunting and wild game that abounded in the surrounding wilderness. Often when a little boy I have listened to his stories of adventure, especially remember one in which he climbed a tall dead tree, which overhung the deep waters of Tiffin River, to watch a deer lick as he seated himself in the branches, gun in hand in the darkness of night, the tree suddenly broke off at the ground, the result can easily be imagined. Old Fort Defiance was partially preserved at the time of their coming, and from what is now Brunersburg, not even a trace was cut through the woods, to the place of settlement. In the latter part of the 40's he was elected captain of the Ohio State Militia and rose to the rank of Major. Father Partee lived on the old farm, the remainder of his life, whereas a man of upright Christian character, his life was an open book. The circumstances of his death were those of peculiar sadness. On July 11, _____ while returning from the City riding in his buggy, he was run down by a drunken man and received injuries from which he never fully recovered. Taken home he hovered between life and death, for some weeks but at least partially recovered and went about his daily duties, but in the following winter and internal injuries caused him to gradually decline, resulting in his death on the 19 of March, 1886, aged nearly 74 years. A member of the M.E. church for 35 years, Nancy Brown 2nd. child of Reuben and Sarah Brown, was born in Jackson County, Ohio May 12, 1821, removed with her fathers family to this farm in 1833, was married to John Partee Oct. 10, 1839. Mother Partee though bowing under the weight of four score years is still hearty and vigorous having attained an age greater than any member of the family. There are witnesses living today who knew her at the age of 19 years to stand in a half bushel and shoulder two bushels of wheat. Of their family of seven children Alvaro born in 1840 was killed in the battle of Chicamegua during the Civil War in 1863, Reuben an infant son died in 1844, Sirena born in 1845, married to Malon Erman in 1868, died 1893, of their five children Elvin lives in Nebr., John married to Miss Bowers lives in Evansport, Edwin married to Miss Patten lives on the home farm, Alma and Hazel still live at home. Mahala Partee married Wm. Bayes in 1870, their son Roy married to Miss Fickle and daughter Florence live in Farmer Township. Frank Partee married to Melinda Wolff June 12, 1873, three children, Florence and Ray at home, and Minnie married to C.G. Blanchard lived in Toledo. Warren A. Partee born May 1, 1855, married to Lydia J. Snider in Dec. 1853, have four children, Gladys, Rowena, Winter and Blake. Mrs. Partee died Jan 29, 1894. Clara Partee was married to W.O. Wissler Dec. 1880, with their three children, Karl, Ethel, and Donald live near Evansport. The old homestead farm passed out of the hands of the Partee family about one year ago, after remaining in the family for a period of 77 years.

John Pardee, son of John & Nancy (Williams)

Pardee

Rural Chapel was built ^{in the year} on the east side of Fensig Road on the banks of the Tiffin River, known of old as Bean Creek. Along the river the Indians ~~had~~ planted beans and ~~the~~ the seeds spread downstream & thus it received its name.

It was from this small white Church that Grandfather ^{Capt John} Pardee received his last earthly tribute and was then laid to rest ~~and~~ in the little cemetery ~~located~~ on the banks of the same stream located off road on the old Webb Homestead land. His parents John & Nancy ^{Williams} Pardee with whom he came to Wm Co when just 12 ^{years} of age.

John Partee, son of John & Nancy (Williams) Partee

HISTORY OF DEFIANCE COUNTY.

John Perkins was the first settler in Noble Township, and moved from near Chillicothe to the Maumee Valley as a surveyor in 1810. He insisted in surveying the lands of Northwest Ohio, under the contract taken by Gen. Riley. He purchased the lands upon which the Bremerburg Mills now stand; soon moved on and commenced building a saw-mill and built a dam. In 1828, he built a grist-mill at the east of the dam opposite the saw-mill and continued to run both until 1833, when he sold out, moving to La Fayette, Williams County, where he built a mill. He was one of the first Judges of Williams County. He raised the first wheat in the township in 1830.

James Partee came with Perkins to help to build the mill, married a daughter of Mr. Perkins, bought lands just above Bremerburg, cleared up a farm and lived with his family there until his death a few years ago.

John Plummer also came with Perkins, helped build the mill, bought land in Triffin Township, and cleared up a farm. The first settlers were William Beck, W. Kibble, John Partee, John Lawrence, O. Welch, Enoch Partee, and S. Hughes, who came here at a mill-race.

John Partee was born May 15, 1812, in Ross County, Ohio, and came with his parents, John and Nancy Partee, to Defiance County in 1832. Their route was by Sidney and Waynesburg and by the Anglaise River, to old Fort Amanda and Fort Jennings; thence down the river to old Fort Defiance, which was yet partially preserved, as well as old Fort Winchester, which at that time was a "stockade," not far from the present site of the Russell House, on the west bank of the Anglaise River. He staid all night at Bremerburg. Mr. John Perkins had a mill at that place. It is now the "Hilton" Mill. At that time there were but two houses on Bear Creek, in which the town of Bremerburg is located. These houses were occupied by John Perkins and Joseph Partee. Mr. Perkins sold the mill to Daniel Bremer in 1839. Perkins removed to Palachi, Williams County, and built another mill. From what is now Bremerburg, Mr. Partee says he cut to the place where he now resides. At that time there were large numbers of Potawatomi and Ottawa Indians in the county on what was then called "Bear Creek," now the Triffin River. He says it was called that name because many French and Indians resided along its bottom and raised great quantities of beans and corn, which were grown in patches along the rich bottom now eaten by the Indians and French for food. The old chief, Occocure, often visited him. He also became acquainted with an old Indian by the name of "Shane," who stated he was born under the "old apple tree" across the Maumee River, opposite Defiance. There were then but few buildings. Old Fort Defiance and Fort Winchester were then used as houses. David Hall, a relation of the General, built the first ferry boat across the Maumee River at Defiance. Mr. Partee states that large numbers of bullets were found on the banks of the Maumee when he first came to the county, and sometimes brass kettles were found hid in hollow trees, no doubt left by the Indians during the campaign of Wayne in 1794. Mr. Partee married Miss Nancy Brown, October 10, 1839. Their family consists of Alvaro (deceased), Remond (deceased), Steven, Mahala, Frank, Clara I. and Warren A. Alvaro was killed at the battle of Chickamauga, in the war of 1861-65. The first settlers were Obadiah Welch, William Travis, Peter Rish, Thomas Carr, John Perkins, Joseph, Enoch and James Partee, Sr., John Lawrence, Enoch Partee, William Beck, William Graham, Brice Hilton, William Doty and John Whelan. Deer, bear, wolves, wild cats and smaller game were quite plenty; wild honey was abundant. Mr. Perkins found three bee trees in one day. At the time of the excitement about the line of Ohio and Michigan, when the citizens of Defiance expected war, he remembers that the line was surveyed by Miller Armstrong and Sydney Spurgeon and others, and of a great charge upon them and their retreat, which proved quite a rich joke, and was told with many exaggerations, at the time, but the excitement died out and no harm was done. Mr. John Partee died on the old farm owned by him and John, about 1844, aged about eighty years. He was a soldier in the war of 1812; James and Joseph Partee were also soldiers in the war of 1812. The first school was taught by W. W. Sellick in a drabble log cabin where Enoch and Joseph Partee's families lived. Mr. Brice Hilton was "school-master," "Quaker," "free schooler," schools taught in the township. There are two Methodist Episcopal Churches, one United Brethren and one Presbyterian Church, which cost about $1,000. Rev. Bechtel is the United Brethren pastor. Mr. Partee attended school when taught by Mr. Brice Hilton.

Original data: Tenth Census of the United States, 1880. (NARA microfilm publication T9, 1,454 rolls). Records of the Bureau of the Census, Record Group 29. National Archives, Washington, D.C.

Description:

This database is an index to 50 million individuals enumerated in the 1880 United States Federal Census. Census takers recorded many details including each person's name, address, occupation, relationship to the head of household, race, sex, age at last birthday, marital status, place of birth, parents' place of birth. Additionally, the names of those listed on the population schedule are linked to actual images of the 1880 Federal Census.

Sarah Black

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Black was born in Pickaway Co. O. Feb. 9th 1836. At the age of four years she came with her parents in 1840 to Defiance County, where she grew to an estimable young woman. While yet quite young she was bereft of her parents and left an orphan but she became a member of the family of Capt. John Partee, in whose christian home she remained until her marriage, which took place when she was twenty-two years of age, to Mr. William H. Bridenbaugh Aug. 1858. For 43 years they journeyed together through the varied experiences of life, when the husband was called to his long home, and Sister Bridenbaugh now after 9 years of waiting has gone to be with him. Their married life was blessed with seven children, four of whom are left to mourn her departure. They are Miss Nettie Bridenbaugh of Forest, O., J. W. Bridenbaugh of Defiance. Mrs. Nellie Gallant of Hebron, Neb., and G. E. Bridenbaugh of Fort Scott, Kans.

Census

acres was cleared for farming and the once large pioneer family became smaller, as his older brothers and sisters began their own families. In 1833 Reuben Brown & his wife Sarah (Jones) with their family came from Jackson County and settled nearby. On Oct. 10 1839 John married their daughter Nancy.

There were seven children born to this union.

Oliver, the eldest was born ^{the 3rd} Dec. 1840

Reuben B. born 6 Apr. 1843/4; Lirenca born 4 June 1845 (the Winter Bible says Aug 14, 1844); Mahala Ann 1 Sept. 1847; Frank Allison 23 Mar. 1850 and Warren A. 1 May 1855 and Clara I. 15 Aug 1857.

When militia units were formed Grand father was prepared and was elected Captain in 1844.

Alvero Partee
1840 - 1864

Alvero, the eldest child of John and Nancy (Brown) Partee was born on December 5th 1840. His childhood was spent on the family farm that his grandparents had settled when they came to the wilderness area near Fort Defiance in 1824.

He was only four when his grandfather, John Partee, Sr. was buried in the little cemetery (Webb) on the banks of the Tiffin River where his father had played as a child. Two years later his grandmother was buried in the same little cemetery.

Alvero attended school and worked on the farm. As he grew to manhood the Country was gradually experiencing the threat that George Washington aluded to as a concern for the newly formed Union in his Farewell Address; "When designing men or parties may endeavor to excite a belief that there is a real difference of local interest and views by geographical discrimination, Northern and Southern, Atlantic and Western, it must end in peaceful dissolution or Civil War must follow." His words were prophetic when the Confederacy was formed by seven Southern States and on April 12th 1861 the guns sounded at Fort Sumpter.

Soon after, Alvero, age 20, five feet five inches, light complected, grey eyes, brown hair, went to Defiance and enlisted for three years. He was mustered in at Camp Dick Robinson on October 14, 1861. Information is sketchy but in Jan. and Feb. 1862 he was at Camp Calvert, Kentucky. On May 21st of that same year he was promoted to Corporal. By Sept. 19, 1863 he was with a Union force of fifty-five thousand advancing on the vital Confederate supply and communication base at Chattanooga, Tennessee. They met a Southern Army at Chickamauga Creek south of the city. The Union Forces fought admirably but the blundering tactics of their commander, General Rosecrans, contributed to their defeat on Sept. 20th. Cpl. Alvero Partee was wounded on the field of battle and reported missing in action.

The final statement from the Adjutant General's office dated June 15th 1865 reads as follows: Cpl. Alvero Partee served faithfully in the field and is now discharged by reason of death. He died in the rebel prison at Atlanta, Georgia Feb: 21st 1864 by reason of wounds received at Chickamauga.

I have heard cousin May (Partee) Moninger, daughter of Alvero's brother Frank, tell that she and her husband Gale stopped at the cemetery and located his grave. May died today, 26th of October 1987, aged 104 years.

As he grew to manhood the Country was gradually experiencing the threat that George Washington aluded to as a concern for the newly formed Union in his Farewell Address; "When designing men or parties may endeavor to excite a belief that there is a real difference of local interest and views by geographical discrimination, Northern and Southern, Atlantic and Western, it must end in peaceful dissolution or Civil War must follow." His words were prophetic when the Confederacy was formed by seven Southern States and on April 12th 1861 the guns sounded at Fort Sumpter.

Soon after, Alvero, age 20, five feet five inches, light complected, grey eyes, brown hair, went to Defiance and enlisted for three years. He was mustered in at Camp Dick Robinson on October 14, 1861. Information is sketchy but in Jan. and Feb. 1862 he was at Camp Calvert, Kentucky. On May 21st of that same year he was promoted to Corporal. By Sept. 19, 1863 he was with a Union force of fifty-five thousand advancing on the vital Confederate supply and communication base at Chattanooga, Tennessee. They met a Southern Army at Chickamauga Creek south of the city. The Union Forces fought admirably but the blundering tactics of their commander, General Rosecrans, contributed to their defeat on Sept. 20th. Cpl. Alvero Partee was wounded on the field of battle and reported missing in action.

The final statement from the Adjutant General's office dated June 15th 1865 reads as follows: Cpl. Alvero Partee served faithfully in the field and is now discharged by reason of death. He died in the rebel prison at Atlanta, Georgia Feb. 21st 1864 by reason of wounds received at Chickamauga.

Entertained Club

Miss Mildred Roscoe's little party Thursday was most attractive. Just a number of her club and a small party of guests invited in. A table of players including our fancy for action in congenial groups, rewards of victory being a leather shopping list and a pair of gloves which went to Mrs. Lillian Chenevert and Miss Frances Webb for highest scores. Calling who much in evidence all night the evening and added to the pleasures. After the games the ladies were appointed for the delicious menu of salads and delicacies served by the hostess. The guests enjoying the affair were: Misses Lillian Chenevert, Mabel Berger, Godie Deatrick, Agnes Bailey and Mrs. Raymond Mangar. Miss Frances Webb invited the club members to be her guests for an evening of action in two weeks.

Charming Card Parties

The afternoon and evening of cards at St. John's Catholic Hall arranged by the Christian Mothers' society yesterday which engrossed so large a proportion of the people of the church and their friends, proved a lovely success. It was the affair that opened the series of events of the new year and the charming hospitality extended and the congeniality of the guest list combined to give the event a charm all its own. In the afternoon there were seven tables surrounded with guests besides a group of non-playing guests who enjoyed themselves in an informal way. While a pretty appointed lunch was being enjoyed giving the guests a chance for informal visiting the prizes were distributed to Mrs. Frank Fisher and Mrs. Wilhelm. The evening party was of similar appointments, sixteen tables of men and women enjoying the attractive time arranged for their enjoyment, the favors going to Mrs. Louis Krutach, Lenus Froelich and Joe Stein. A delicious lunch served by the committee in charge completed the entertainment. There will be a group of these attractive affairs planned during the next few months for the pleasure of the church members and their friends for they prove most agreeable affairs these winter days and are a delightful place for group of friends to meet for a merry party.

Annual Meeting

A meeting that never fails to attract large groups of the members of the Westminster Aid society of the Presbyterian church is their annual meeting for the election of officers for in a way it seems the beginning of a new year with plans and suggestions for the ensuing year. This meeting made the Presbyterian church park the scene of charming hospitality yesterday

W. H. Dabney was elected treasurer. Mrs. J. P. Deatrick Sr. being the retiring treasurer. The past year has proven a most successful one in every way and next year's work will carry out the same plans already formulated. There was a reception of lovely appointments following the meeting with prettily appointed lunch dainties, that always make these affairs attractive to visit over. A bake sale with many delicious home baked articles was also a feature. The next meeting is scheduled for February 14th.

Motor to Jewell

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Patten, Miss Nellie Smith and Miss Altha Mueller motored over to Jewell and were the guests of friends last evening.

Sleighride Party

A group of a dozen guests enjoyed a merry sleighride party out to the South Richmond township home of Mrs. M. C. Decker this afternoon.

Interesting Meeting

At an animated meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of St. John's Reformed church yesterday for which Mrs. Robrock greeted the members at her home Mrs. Herman Spangler was elected president for the ensuing year, Mrs. John Abele was elected vice president, Mrs. Robrock, secretary, Mrs. Royer, treasurer; Mrs. Schudel, treasurer of the Flower fund and Mrs. Winkler, treasurer of the Missionary society. It was an interesting meeting from beginning to end with reports from the acting committees showing that there was a nice sum of money in the treasury to start the new year. The members are enthusiastic about Red Cross work and have been accomplishing a great amount of this kind of work and during their business session voted to give ten dollars to the Defiance County chapter. There was an informal hour of lovely appointments after the meeting completed with the serving of a delicious lunch.

Do Work That Suits Best

"Women should do the war work for which they are best fitted. It is useless for women to be knitting stockings if they make better clerks portant that women be prepared to do their part. The great problem today is the cooperation of business and government."

Guest at Camp Sherman

Miss Maude Carter is enjoying a few days visit at Camp Sherman the guest of her brother, Elbert Carter, who is at Officers' Training Camp there.

After enjoying her holiday vacation in the city Miss Catherine Coy left yesterday for Beach Wood school in Philadelphia where she is studying this winter. Miss Coy is planning on stopping off at Harrisburg, Pa., to spend a day with Miss Frances Brown who is taking a commercial course in that city, residing with her sister.

Toledo Visitors

Mrs. Mary Shouder and daughter Agnes spent Thursday in Toledo.

In Toledo

Mrs. Harry Hudson and Miss Helen Hudson were Toledo guests Thursday.

Cleveland Guest

Miss Agnes Sawyer left this morning for Cleveland where she will enjoy a visit with friends.

Delightful Entertainment

Rural Chapel was the center of popularity last evening when a large group of people assembled there for the attractive entertainment arranged for the benefit of the church. Every number was splendid and received many encores and were received with delight. The following numbers were given in an admirable manner: Music by Mr. and Mrs. Milca Cullison; Reading, "The Hero of the Tower" and Cantillation "Mammie's Little Soldier Gal," Miss Blanche Wissler; Reading, "The Royal Bumper Degree," Miss Wissler; Music, Mr. and Mrs. Cullison; Reading, "The Second Election," Miss Wissler; Reading, "The Morning Veil," Miss Wissler; Music, Mr. and Mrs. Cullison; Reading, "The Pride of Battery D," Miss Wissler; Cantillation, "Sassy Faced Sophia," Reading, "Peter Prayer," Music, Mr. and Mrs. Cullison; Reading, Miss Wissler.

Tourist Club Meeting

One of the delightful affairs of Thursday evening was the Tourist Club meeting which attracted a large group of the members, Miss Mildred Haymaker offering charming hospitality at her Wayne avenue home. It was the meeting scheduled for the election of officers and Mrs. M. C. Sherman was elected president, W. H. Cole vice president and Mrs. Karl Heerwagen secretary-treasurer. The early part of over plans for the next year's program and it was decided that they would have no scheduled papers on their programs but would take up the discussion of current events. The paper on last evening's program was the "Community Christmas Trees—A Christmas Story" a delightful paper read by Mrs. W. P. Wallace. The paper gave a splendid history of the Community Christmas tree and was filled with interesting facts concerning this lovely custom. While the guests were enjoying an informal time after the meeting the hostess served a dainty lunch, Mrs. Catherine Sites assisting her in making the time lovely for the guests.

Invitations Issued

Upon opening up the mail this afternoon the following invitations were received by members of the Bon Ton Dancing Club, "Yourself and Lady are cordially invited to attend a dancing party given by the Bon Ton Club at the K. of P. hall Wednesday night, January 16th, 1918. Dancing at 8.30. Bon Ton Dances are strictly invitational." Their parties have been especially attractive this winter and this will be one of the merriest.

Enjoyable Party

To the tune of sleigh bells and songs and music a jolly group of the members of the Walther League of St. John's Lutheran church enjoyed a sleigh ride out to the Hohenberger country home last evening, meeting at the school house early in the evening. There were games, informal amusements of all kinds and a delicious hot lunch to make the time merry at the house and afterwards the ride back.

Lutheran Meeting Closed

Thursday noon marked the close of a most interesting meeting, the Northwestern Ohio Pastoral Conference of the Lutheran Synod held at the St. John's Lutheran church from Tuesday noon until yesterday. This comprised all the ministers in the Northwestern part of the state and fifteen ministers were in attendance. Rev. T. H. Horst of Toledo presided over the meeting. Rev. P. G. Nau acted as secretary. Various religious topics were discussed and the Home Mission work taken up as well as various other matters and it proved a most successful meeting. The next conference will be held the 15-17 of June at Convey, in Van Wert county.

Red Cross Notes

Headquarters Closed. Red Cross Headquarters will be closed all day Saturday according to custom.

Dear Sisters,

With pleasure I take my pen in hand to let you know that I am well at present and hope when these few lines may find you the same.

We are camped about six miles from Lebanon on the Rolling Fork. we have water handy, and as good times as we can expect without our starting. of the 9th & 12th were duly raised.

but we were on the march and I could not encamp sooner, as usual we did not have a hand in the late fight but we were within Cannon shot. Gen. Fry

asked for his Brig. Surgeon but we were not permitted to take any part.
Perhaps it is as well
the way it is as now.
We were not permitted to go before last about dark and in the morning there was a nice little snow about 3 inches deep.
but it is all gone today is a pleasant day.

Perhaps you wonder how we fared. That snow night
we have in shelter made of fodder and sail and plenty of straw. we sleep
as snugly as a lot of pigs.
I was glad to get that of drafted men, it is that some more of them were not served the same.

I have not seen one
copy of that paper yet.
I am glad you have so many apples. they are very dear here now. I want you to have plenty of bottled cider for I trust ere long I will be home to drink some of it. The Rebels can't hold out long if we can do their duty. I have not seen Clark or C. W. since I last wrote. They were camp about 2 miles from here.
The other night some of the co were here. They said they
rick with the Regt.

I was going to see them
the next day but I heard

asked for his Brig twice one and a half miles off. For milling, he usually went to La Fayette (now Pulaski) with oxen and a two-wheeled cart, eleven miles through woods. He enlisted in the late war in August, 1861, in Company D, Thirty-eighth Ohio Volunteer Infantry, served fifteen months, and was discharged for disability, but re-enlisted in Company E, Fourteenth Regiment in the following February, serving until the close of the war.

Jacob Erman was born in Rockingham County, Va., February 4, 1820. His grandfather, George Erman, was a Hessian, born in Prussia, whose wife was born in Switzerland. He came to America, was married, and settled in York County, Penn., and served in the Revolution under Gen. Washington. George Erman, father of our subject, was born in York County, Penn., and, in 1806, married Sarah Argabright, a native of Rockingham County, Va. They have ten children—John, Polly, Malinda, Delilah, Ann, Jacob, George, Elijah, Caroline and Amanda Jane. February 1, 1844, Jacob married Lucy A. Churchman, daughter of Thomas and Susan Churchman. She was born in Preble County, Ohio, October 12, 1822. Her grandfather, Thomas Churchman, was born in London, England. Mahlon O. Erman, the only child of Jacob and Lucy Erman, was born April 3, 1848, married Serena J. Purtee, daughter of Capt. John and Nancy (Brown) Purtee, and resides in Section 28, this township. Jacob Erman resides on his farm, in Section 29. He came to this country in 1853.

Alexander Rogers, Jr., born January 23, 1824, in Delaware County, Ohio, was son of Alexander and Martha Taylor Rogers, of Pennsylvania, and parents of a family of five sons and seven daughters. Our subject worked on his father's farm in his youth, and married, February 10, 1853, Alley, daughter of Eli and Rachel (Nichols) Sherman, born September 29, 1834. They have been blessed with ten children, as follows: Lavina, born January 11, 1854; Carmine V., born May 18, 1855; Lafayette, born December 27, 1856; Andrew J., born August 28, 1858; Cyrus E., born September 8, 1860; Franklin E., born October 16, 1862, died, aged four years and eight months; Harvey F., born September 24, 1864; Alfred A., born May 1, 1867; Willie F., born March 4, 1869; Hiram W., born March 19, 1871. Lavina married John Figley, and resides in this township. Lafayette married Josephine Bidlack, and also resides in Tiffin. Mr. Rogers enlisted as a private in Company E, Fourteenth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry, February 28, 1864, and served until the close of the war, being honorably discharged from the service July 11, 1865, at Louisville, Ky. His maternal grandfather, Taylor, fought in the Revolutionary army, and his paternal grandfather, Rogers, died at the advanced age of one hundred and three years, in Cumberland County, Penn.

Peter Gares, born December 22, 1836, in Bavaria, Germany, was eldest son of Jacob and Mary E. (Drum) Gares, also Bavarians, who immigrated in September, 1839, landing in New York, with Peter, their only child.

During their three weeks' stay in New York, their next child, Charles, was born. After a short stay in Williamsport, Penn., they came to Rome, Richland Co., Ohio, where the father worked at his trade of wagon-making till the fall of 1841, when they removed to Brady Township, Williams County, where they remained until his death, on November 25, 1876, at the age of seventy-six years. Mrs. Gares survives him on the old homestead in Williams County. They had five daughters and three sons: Peter, Charles and John R. (who enlisted in Company E, One Hundredth Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry, in 1862, died in Cincinnati Hospital), Catharine, Sarah, Mary E. (dead), Caroline (dead), Louisa (dead). Grandmother Drum came to this country about 1850, and lived at her daughter's (Mrs. Mary Gares), until she died, aged eighty-nine. Grandfather Drum died in Germany. Peter Gares married, December 2, 1858, Christiana, daughter of Henry and Elizabeth (Beederwell) Toberen, born April 5, 1838. Her parents were Prussians, who came to New York in 1833, thence to Massillon, Ohio, and thence to Tiffin in 1835. They had a son, Asa, born November 5, 1840. He died in 1856, and she February 20, 1878. Mr. Gares had a family of nine children—Sarah E., born February 24, 1860, and died January 4, 1867; John W., born March 22, 1862; Charles E., born January 14, 1865, died November 30, 1866; Jacob H., born July 4, 1867; Orestus P., born April 27, 1870; Clara O., born July 16, 1873, and died April 23, 1875; Emerson W., born October 14, 1876, and died 22d of same month; Mary E., born October 20, 1877; Frederick W., born July 3, 1881, the day following the shooting of President Garfield. Mr. Gares bought out the old Toberen homestead, entered by Henry Hoekman and Frederick Toberen, and has now a farm of 141 acres. Mr. Gares has been elected to most of the township, as well as some of the county, offices. In the spring of 1859, he was elected Township Trustee, and served five years; Assessor in 1866, and re-elected in 1867; Infirmary Director at the organization in 1869, one year, and re-elected in 1870 for three years, to the fall of 1872. During this time, in 1871, he was elected Township Treasurer, and served in this capacity two years. In the fall of 1873, he was elected County Commissioner, and re-elected in 1876, serving six years in all. During this time (in 1877) he was again elected Township Treasurer, and at each annual election has been chosen by the people of his township as its Treasurer, and at this writing, 1883, is still in this honorable position. Mr. Gares has one of the finest farms in Tiffin, in Section 15, it being in a fine state of cultivation. His residence and farm buildings are also notable objects in the township.

John Strawser, son of David and Rachel (Smith) Strawser, was born September 21, 1839. His parents were natives of Pennsylvania and came to Ross County, Ohio, in 1849. Remaining there but a short time, they came to Defiance County and settled in Tiffin Township,

World War II. The B-17 on which he was a tail gunner was shot down over the Alps. Escaping into the mountains with three of the crew (the rest of the crew were Prisoners of War), the four spent six months with Tito's Partisans in the mountains going from camp to camp trying to reach an Allied base. They reached Trieste, Italy, two days before the European War ended.

Bernard served in the Navy during World War II.

Bernard married Pauline Klingler Decem-

Weisenburger November 18, 1948. Virginia married Joseph Herr July 2, 1949.

Anna Eve English died January 30, 1971.
She is buried at the Poplar Ridge Cemetery,

He came to America, was married in York County, Pennsylvania, and served the Revolutionary War under Gen. George Washington.

On Feb. 1, 1844 Jacob was married to Amanda Churchman, who resided in Erie County, Ohio. Her grandfather had been in London, England.

Mahlon O. Erman, the only child of Jacob and Lucy Erman, was born Apr. 38, 1843.
He married Serena J. Partee, daughter of John and Nancy (Brown) Partee. Their children were John, Edwin, Elva, Mary Alma, and Hazel.

The second son, Edwin Mahlon, born June 9, 1879, was married to Sarah D. Patton, daughter of Jacob and Susan (Hammon) Patton and was the father of the present owner, Clinton "Doc" Erman.

Clinton was married on Jan. 8, 1933 to Margaret Pauline Baldwin, daughter of John W. and Eliza Jane Baldwin. Their children were Douglas R. Erman, living in Delphos, Ohio, Mrs. Charles (Janeann Sarah) Kellermeyer of Olympic Valley, California; and Mary Erman
Pollard, who is an employee of the Defiance Public Library and lives in Defiance.

Ed. M. Erman, who was born and raised lived his entire life in Tiffin Township, Defiance County, Ohio, except for one year in Bakersfield, California, where he was employed as engineer on a construction project.
He was in the road construction business for 30 years starting in 1909 at Ridgeville Corners, Ohio and continuing in that business until his retirement in 1959. The Erman Construction Company built many of the concrete streets in the city of Defiance and surrounding vicinity. The Stever road was the first concrete road built in Defiance County. The Erman Construction Company owned and operated the first large steam driven cement mixer of its kind, a three and one-half bag capacity which was used in constructing the Stever road.

The Erman Construction Co. also built of the surrounding stone and tar bound roads of the county and various locations over the state of Ohio.

They also built the first banked curve in the state of Ohio in 1924, located just west of Deshler, Ohio. It was a three and one-half foot bank.

March 4th.

Dear Roena;

What a surprise and what a joy it was to receive your letter. Your reference to the birthday party brought back a great many fond memories, for that party was simply out of this world and how you and Mary ever brought it off in the manner you did, is more than I can say. Two are gone who sat at the "honor table" Rays wife died last August and Alma later.

Ray was sick and in the hospital over Xmas. When he came home I went to his house and stayed seven weeks with him until he was able to be alone. Two weeks ago I discovered that I had cataracts-- my left eye is completely covered, and now I am busy trying to find some place to go to have them removed. It has me climbing the wall, so you will have to overlook mistakes as x I can not see to do any better.

One time when I was out to see Florence and Anna they showed me pictures of the house you were building. It is a beautiful house and in a beautiful setting, and I hope you all have the best of luck and a lot of happiness living in it. I think it is wonderful for you three to spend your retirement years together. More power to you/ and the best of luck,

I was very pleased to hear that you and Florence Grieme finally made contact. I have always felt that you two had so much in common that you should know each other..

I am enclosing a sketch of the Partee family which covers Cant. John Partee-----my grandfather----- and his wife Nancy Brown.

They are both buried in Webb Cemetery, which is between Brunersberg and Evansport. I hope you can figure it out. Most of the information is on the last couple pages. The sketch about the Browns, refers to Grandma Partee, who was Nancy Brown

I hope this will give you the information you want and that you can figure it out. Please return these papers to me when you have finished with them. If I were able I would make you a copy, but that I can not do now.

Roena there is so much I would like to write you, but I am not able to do so. I hope this is not so badly written that you can not make out what I am trying to write. I loved hearing from you and hope you can come and see me when you are next this way. Thanks for writing and I hope you understand why I can not write more. My love and very best to you always.

MOCK, BETTY (EVERETTS) FAMILY

F402

Betty L. (Everetts) (Moon) Mock's first ancestor to move to America was Walter Haynes, and he came from England on the ship "Confidence" and landed in Watertown, Mass. He brought his family with him. He had owned land in Shafton, Shaftsbury in Dorsetshire and lived in Semly, England. From Watertown, Mass., he and his family moved to Preston, Conn., to New Groton, Conn., to Guilford, Vermont in 1778 and to Indiana, in 1837.

The first generation of Everetts (at times spelled "Everts", "Everetts", due to the phonic spelling by the people in the records offices) is Cyrus Everts and Christene (Rhodes) Everts. Cyrus and Christene are buried in the Evangelical German Reform cemetery near Rome, Ohio. Betty's father, William Monroe Everetts (from the seventh generation Asa Philander Haynes) passed away May 20, 1970 in Auburn, IN and his body was laid to rest in the Hamilton, IN. cemetery. Asa Philander Haynes was the son of Asa Haynes and Sally Haynes. Asa Haynes was a Reverend in Guilford, Vermont. Betty's father was the son of Joseph Walker

Everts and Eunice I. Slentz.

The Everts homestead is in Hamilton, IN. on Co. Rd. 8. The first home did not have a floor or a door and the Indians used to come and lift the blanket and peek in. The house that is still standing was built in the early 1860's on 80 acres of land homesteaded by Asa Philander Haynes and Mary Poll Parsons Haynes.

The house was built by Gilbert Charles Everts and Mary Celesta Haynes Everts. Gilbert Charles was a justice of the peace for Dekalb Co. IN. Betty's grandfather, Joseph Walker Everts wrote the words and music to a song called "I Cannot Forget You, Maggie", copyright 1920 by J.W. Everts, Monroe, MI. Betty's mother, Lois Burdena (Vose) Everetts, was born in Dekalb Co. IN, on Oct. 1, 1915. Lois' father was George Lewis Vose and her mother was Maude Rose (Ranney) Vose. Lois was one of a set of twins for she had a twin brother, Lewis, and she had three other brothers — John Arden, Cecil, and Gerald; and she had two sisters, Wilma and Ella (Vose) Heady.

Lois is the last of the original Vose generation and lives in Bryan, Ohio, with her husband, John Gaa. The Vose homestead is also in Hamilton, IN. and Betty can remember going to the Vose reunions, for she just lived down the road from her grandmother and she can remember sitting under a certain tree in the front yard and pulling up peppermint leaves that grew there. It was like chewing a fresh stick of gum — it smelled real good and her grandmother used the leaves for different things from time to time. Betty went to a one-room school in Hamilton and there were three "Betty's" in the school at the same time.

Betty Louise (Everetts) (Moon) Mock was born the 30th of January 1945, in Dekalb Co., IN. She is the third of five living children and has two sisters, one brother, and a half-sister. Ida Maude (Everetts) Steffes died giving birth to her second son, Anthony Lewis Steffes. Anthony was adopted out at childbirth, because his grandparents could not care for him, Ida's first-born, Rick, and their own children, also. Anthony has since been reunited with the family and has changed his name to Jeff Gordon Keck. Ida's first-born, Rick Steffes, married Karol Rosebrock and lives in Ney, Ohio. Joseph John I, lives on Holgate Av., Defiance, OH and he has his own business in air conditioning; and he has a son, Joseph John II, who has his own business in carpet cleaning. Joseph John II married Denise Kay Fox and they have two children, Tarra Brooke and Joseph John III.

Rose Burdena (Everetts) Richardson lives in Windfall, IN. Carol Sue Karol lives in Bryan, OH, and she has one daughter Peggy Sue Karol and a son, Edward LaMar Smith. Betty married James Moon of Bryan, OH and had two girls of this marriage, Kim Rene and Penny Jean. Kim has a daughter, Ashley Renee Garza and Penny has a daughter, Jennifer Su Smethurst. Betty later married Richard Mock. Richard works at G.M. and is an avid catfisherman and the best that I know. He was born in Defiance, OH on Oct. 19, 1944. He is past vice-president of Defiance Co. Fish and Game Club, a member of the National Rifleman's Assn. and the National Trappers Assn. Richard is the third child of James Ormal Mock and Edna Grace Balliett. Richard's father passed away while Richard and his father and his brother James Lewis (Bud) were working on the Four County Vocational School.

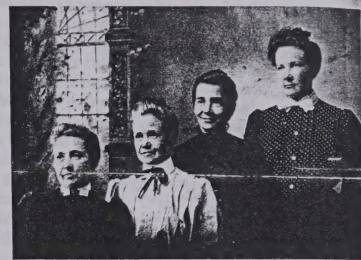

Edna later married Gordon Rappole and now lives in Phoenix, AZ. Bud married Nancy Fockler and they have three boys and a girl — Mark, Steve, Jeff and Theresa. Jeff is in the U.S. Army and stationed in Germany and he married Deb Nagel and they have a son, Kyle Preston. Theresa married Dan Thiel. Richard's sister, Joyce Gillette, lives in Defiance, OH. Betty works at the First Presbyterian church and is trustee of Defiance Co. Fish and Game Club.

Bale Moninger R^o Ann — MONINGER, HIERONIMUS AND ELENORA (HENRY)

L. to R., Melissa Moninger Spitler, Clara Moninger Coughanour, Lettie Moninger Parent, Minnie Moninger Lehman.

Frederick Moninger was born in 1793 in Baden, Germany. His wife, Mary (no name known) was born there in 1800. Though we have no exact date for the year of their migration to America, it fell between 1835, when son Adam was born in Baden, and 1842 when son John was born in Ohio. The 1850 census for Noble Twp., Defiance Co., Ohio, lists them as having 7 children: Frederick, 25; Hieronimus, 23; George, 21; Christina, 19; Adam, 17; John, 8; and Mary, 6.

Their son Hieronimus (my grandfather) was born in Baden, Germany on July 6, 1824. In August of 1853 he married Elenora Henry, born March 22, 1835 near Mansfield, Ohio. Her parents (names unknown) were both born in Pennsylvania.

The Moninger families settled in the Bucks-in Road area. To Hieronimus and Elenora was born 10 children: Willie (1849-1868); Franklin P. (1854-1865); Charles F. (1856-?); Albert (1857-1861); George (1859-?); Melissa (1861-1909); Clara E. (1866-1956); Roletta (Lettie) (1869-1965); Frederick (1872-1960); Minnie (1877-1913). In the light of modern knowledge about hay fever and asthma it is now thought that the deaths of Franklin, Albert and perhaps Willie were caused by those maladies. Not much was known about treating them then. The three boys are buried in the old Olive Branch Cemetery.

The family lived in a home on the south side of Bucksin Road, and farmed there for many years. Hieronimus was known for his talent in grafting trees, and grew many new varieties of fruit as a result. He was also a teacher of vocal music. The older grandchildren could remember him rocking in his rocking chair, verbalizing the notes (do-re-mi-fa-so-la-ti-do) instead of the words to the songs, as he sang. Elenora was a capable Pennsylvania Dutch cook, skilled in all the housewifely arts, and she taught her daughters to be likewise. Both of them lived out their last years in Sherwood, where Elenora died June 19, 1908, and Hieronimus died Oct. 30, 1912. They are both buried in Sherwood Cemetery.

Elenora had an interesting brother. Though he lived out of state, he periodically visited all his relatives, trying to promote funds to produce his version of a perpetual motion machine. He was certain of its eventual success, but no one else was!

Charles F. Moninger became a farmer. His wife, Amanda, died of consumption on Nov. 2, 1880. They had 2 children: Fern Moninger Rankin and Gale Moninger. George H. Moninger was also a farmer. His wife, Dell, died in August, 1893. There were no children. After her death George came back home to live with his parents. George had a way with words and sketching, was the cut-up of the family, and usually kept everyone laughing and in good humor.

Melissa married Joe Spitler, a farmer, and the couple moved to Sherwood. They had no children. Melissa died of a tumor in 1909. Joe lived until 1933. They are buried in Sherwood Cemetery.

Clara E. and Roletta (Letty) attended Defiance College in its early days, and taught in Defiance County schools for several years. Clara married Frank Coughanour (1854-1935), a teacher and farmer. Frank came to Hicksville with his family in 1873 from Normalville, Pa. As a child he lived so near the Gettysburg battle grounds that the roar of the battle was plainly heard at the family home. The Coughanours had 2 children: Freddy, who died in infancy, and Faith Coughanour Johnson (1903-1974). They all rest in Hicksville Cemetery.

Letty married Joseph A. Parent, a Delaware Twp. farmer. They had 4 daughters: Blanche Parent Mack (1890-1969); Grace (d. 1975); Helen (d. 1973); and Wilma (d. 1926). Joseph died in 1911, and in 1920 the family moved to 831 East Second St. in Defiance, where they lived for years. All are buried in Defiance Cemetery. Frederick married Jennie Patton, and had 6 children. They lived in Hillsdale and Jackson, Mich. for years. They are buried there. b1897-1913 m. Orren Lehman

Minnie was the flower lover of the family. The Moninger home was a blaze of color during the growing season. She married Orren Lehman on Dec. 24, 1898. After their marriage the couple located in Sherwood. Two children, Enid Lehman Fitzerider (1908-1975) and Evelyn Lehman Ryan (1913-) were born. Minnie died after the second birth. She and Orren are buried in Sherwood Cemetery. A girlhood diary left by Minnie chronicles the fun times enjoyed by the young people of that time, as well as the hard work required of even the youngest family members. Young men picked up young ladies in their one-seater buggies to attend services at all the little country churches . . . Olive Branch, Oak Grove, North Delaware. Or a whole group would commandeer a family wagon to go to a picnic, or a belling. It was their way of meeting other young people from a wider area. Of course there were some exciting buggy races going home from these events, and occasional spills. There were also accounts of the girls taking over the laundry, cooking, cleaning and weekly baking for the hard-working men in the family while Mother left to help out at the birth of a new grandchild, or to care for a sick neighbor or relative.

My own children were grown when we came across the old Moninger home, by then long abandoned and overgrown with trees and bushes, dreaming its last days away. Recalling Minnie's tales of playing with her dolls in the attic on rainy days, we just had to look. Even after all those years it was easy to imagine the family still there . . . harder to imagine how such a relatively small house once sheltered all that living.

MONTAGUE, REV. W.O.

F404

Rev. W.O. Montague was assigned to the United Brethren Church, Defiance, in 1916. July 29, 1918, the lot at the corner of East Second and Seneca Streets was purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Decker for $3,000.00. In 1920, the house on the lot was moved to the back of the lot facing Seneca. The house was remodeled into a modern parsonage. The Rev. Montague and family was the first to occupy it.

Rev. Montague was followed by Rev. A.R. Hendrickson in 1921.

This information is taken from the records of Oscar Pickering.

MOON, AMOS AND MARY

F405

Grandpa and Grandma, Amos and Mary Moon, moved to their own forty acres soon after they were married on 28 Oct. 1855. The farm is located two miles south and about one-fourth mile west of Ney, Ohio on the south side of the road just before you cross the old Cincinnati-Northern railroad tracks. Grandpa built the house now standing there. The first home burned to the ground. He also replaced a log barn with the present barn. My mother remembered the 'barn raising' when all the neighbors came to help.

Grandpa cleared the land of forest and stumps to be able to farm all the land. He was a tall, large man who in his younger days had a temper to match his size. He used swear words freely and everything seemed to revolved around his likes and dislikes. He was a very talkative man and loved to visit with anyone who came by. However, he didn't neglect caring for his farm, nor his farm machinery. Nothing was ever let run down. He raised his own beautiful teams and treated his horses kindly. There was often a new colt in the barn to go see when we went to visit. He drove a fine horse and carriage, and when automobiles became popular Grandpa purchased a brand new Hupmobile and built a garage to keep it in.

Grandpa lost a thumb and part of a forefinger in a saw while buzzing wood. He also had an illness one time that nearly cost him his life. He took sick while attending Grandma's sister, Arbelle Smith's funeral. My mother said she attended many funerals. If anyone died, be it relative, friend, or nearly a stranger her parents dropped whatever was planned for the day to go and pay their respects. Being the youngest in the family she had to go along. Grandpa was ill for weeks being doctored by old Doc Lehman of Ney for what he thought was typhoid fever. Finally Doctor Replogle from Bryan, Ohio was called. He pronounced the trouble Septic Poisoning. Grandpa had received a scratch on his wrist while he and son Joe were replacing the hay rack on the wagon with a stock rack. It was believed this is where the trouble began.

One day when he was so sick the family thought he was delirious. Grandpa told afterwards he had heard a voice speak to him. It told him he was on the edge of the lake of fire, and if he did not change his ways he was going to be in that fire. Grandpa called for son Guy, and Grandma to come and help him up on his knees in bed. He began to pray out loud and to sing hymns most of the morning. Guy and Grandma saw a bright light fill the room. Grandpa began to improve and get well after this. As soon as he was able he and Grandma began attending the Bethel Church of God in Ney, Ohio. They were soon baptized in Mason's gravel pit northeast of Farmer, OH. Everyone knew Grandpa was a more humble man by the christian life he lived the remainder of his life. His swearing was gone and he talked about the Bible and God.

Grandma Moon was a petite, reddish haired lady with a lively step. She was always busy and kept everyone else at work. You didn't sit down without picking up some hand work. She did quilting for friends and neighbors. I recall the quilting frames up in her living room where she sat taking the smallest possible stitches. I also remember cookies in a stone jar in the cellarway, her thriving gardens, the grape arbor, and bunches of luscious blue grapes sent home with us. When I would spend an overnight at Grandpa and Grandma's house I observed the family habit of sitting in the dark in the living room quietly visiting until time to go to bed which seemed to me an awfully early hour.

Amos and Mary Moon celebrated their Golden Anniversary in the fall of 1935. I was 12 years old and recall the table laden with gifts. The men played horse-shoe that afternoon. The women visited, while cousin Esther, handy with a comb, set some of the younger girls hair into beautiful waves using Wildroot wave set.

Dear Poena-

Thanks for your Easter card, and a special thanks for the lovely and interesting letter which accompanied it — it was a delight to hear from you and to read of your "marching" activities. You sure went to town on that, but I'll bet you had to soak your feet afterwards. I am glad you are well and able to do it. I couldn't.

Spring is late coming — it is still cold and the furnace is on all the time. We had a very severe winter. Snow so deep the National Guard with Helicopters and heavy equipment had to be called in to cope with it and to get doctors and nurses to the hospital. When I opened my front and back doors the snow was up to my shoulders and it took a long time for it to go away. Needless to say I did not get out — had plenty of food on hand and electricity — at what a price — which a great many people did not have. It is all over now and we are anxiously awaiting Spring, if

I have been fairly well - my eyes are bad - and I don't get around too well but - am glad I am still hitting on all six - and able to take care of myself. I hire the yard work & house cleaning done so keep going and drive my car occasionally. What more can you ask when you are 110?

I hope to hear from you again - and also to see you this summer. Don't disappoint me!

Love and best wishes to you always.

She does not know any thing - and it seems a pity - she was a wonderful musician, a good business woman & had such a lovely personality. I so wanted you two to meet - as you had so much in common that I knew you would have liked each other. Florence had a beautiful home in Arlington but I know there will be nothing left after her illness & rest home. I feel so badly about it and only wish she was here in defiance for some of us to look after her. They probably won't send her body here for burial afterwards. I am glad you are well and able to do it. I couldn't.

I hope to inflict this hand written letter on you, but I can not see to use the typewriter and can only write with a heavy pen—so you will have to bear with me.

Ethel Cullison died in Des Moines Iowa the 14 of Feb & was buried there. She youngest daughter lives in Des Moines and they had been there the past couple years. I think you know who I mean.

That Anna! I don't know how she ever holds a job. She might be able to read—but I know "durn" well she don't know how to write. I never hear from her. I wrote her about Ethel, — but—

Monday Aug. 8th 1977.

Dear Roena;

You know I can not see too well, which will account for this badly written note. I tried to call you on the phone both Saturday and yesterday-- Sunday. But could not get an answer. I want to thank you for the very beautiful flower ~~xxx~~ arrangement sent me by you and Anna. I would say it is the prettiest I have ever seen. It has yellow and white Mums, pink carnations, red carnations, greenery and baby breath in it, and I can not tell you in words how very beautiful it is or how much I appreciate it. However, you should not have done it. It was such a joy to have you and Anna spend the day with me that that was all that was necessary.

We have had a lot of ungodly hot weather here with very little much needed rain. I stay in with as few clothes on as possible. I feel pretty good but it is hard for me to get around, but I use my "broom stick" and keep going.

I called Anna yesterday to thank her for the flowers; She seemed O.K. and in good spirits--as always and gave me your phone number, which did not do me any good.

Jack and Jerry were here Saturday and until mid-afternoon Sunday. He has been at one of their plants in Penna. correcting trouble for about six weeks, but will be heading back to their home in Kentucky the last of this week. Poor ~~that~~ little Jerry---it is all she can do to walk with a cane on one side and Jack on the other. She never complains and always smiling. Jack is good to her and takes good care of her. We were all at Rays for dinner last night. This wife of his is very nice and cordial. She is a very good cook and housekeeper--- has a lovely home and is nice to all of us poor relations.

I hope you have been able to get through this hot weather and that you are O.K. It was so very good to have you visit me, and DON'T you ever dare come here again and not come here. I loved every minute of it. Thank you again for the remembrance and the lovely flowers.

With love and best wishes,

may.

I thought you might like the pictures of Grandpa & Grandma Partee your great grand parents. I have no immediate record of the date of Grandma's death.

Dear Robert:

You know I can not see too well, which will account for this badly written note. I tried to call you on the phone both Saturday and yesterday-- Sunday. But could not get an answer. I want to thank you for the very beautiful flower arrangement sent me by Howard Adams. I would say it is the prettiest I have ever seen. It has yellow and white lilies, pink carnations, red carnations, greenery and baby breath in it, and I can not tell you in words how very beautiful it is or how much I appreciate it. However, you should not have done it. It was such a joy to have you and Adams spend the day with me that that was all that was necessary.

Local Couple Wed

Defiance residents Christine T. Himes and Ray B. Partee were united in marriage Saturday, April 30, in Trinity United Methodist Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by Pastor C. Edwin Pellett and Rev. Sanford Mitchell.

The bride wore a full length ensemble of mint green polyester knit for the gown and a printed jacket of the same fabric. She carried a bouquet of white tea roses and orange carnations and wore a corsage of similar flowers.

Members of the wedding party included: Zerus and Gretchen M. Bassler, daughter and son-in-law of the bride, and Jack and Geraldine Partee, son and daughter-in-law of the groom.

Flower girl was the bride's granddaughter, April Bassler. At the organ was Barbara Stephens.

A dinner followed at the Napoleon Holiday Inn and a reception began at 8 p.m. at the Defiance Senior Center.

Report on the Project

1. Introduction

The project was initiated in 2020 with the goal of developing a new product line. The initial phase involved market research and the identification of potential customers. This was followed by a detailed analysis of the competitive landscape and the formulation of a business plan. The project team consisted of a mix of experienced professionals and newcomers, all of whom contributed to the success of the project. The project was managed using a combination of traditional and agile methodologies, allowing for flexibility and adaptability in the face of changing requirements. The project was completed on time and within budget, and the new product line was successfully launched. The project was a significant success for the company, and it has paved the way for future growth and expansion.

She always leaned to watch for us,
Anxious if we were late,

In winter by the window,
In summer by the gate;

And though we mocked her tenderly,
Who had such foolish care,
The long way home would seem more safe
Because she waited there.

Her thoughts were all so full of us,
She never could forget!
And so I think that where she is
She must be watching yet.

Waiting until we come home to her,
Anxious if we are late—
Watching from Heaven's window Leaning from Heaven's gate.

that day forward his was a familiar figure in this community.

Ellis Winter Partee, (Deceased)

A farmer of intelligence and of large human sympathies, he readily won for himself an unusually large circle of devoted friends. He is sincerely mourned this day as a man of far more than average character and worth. The spirit of splendid self-respect controlled him. He disdained falsity and dishonor. His very face spoke of sincerity and a candid nature disturbed by no unhappy concealments. He was frugal, yet of generous impulses; devoted to his family, yet anxious above all things else that they might have such positions in society as rectitude and honor merit; resolute in his judgement and opinions yet not in the spirit of the bigot or senseless partisan.

That he should have been cut down in what his friends regarded as almost the prime of his life, seems most easily explicable in view of the cruel blow of affliction which befell him in the death of his princely son, some seven months ago. When that misfortune came he lost appreciably his grip on life. It was a grievous trial upon which he had no sense counted. From that day forward he was twenty-fold more easily accessible to physical weakness and ailment than he had ever been before. The zest of life for him was largely gone. He felt himself a mortal wound had been inflicted; and those who loved him thought of him as one who seemed to be consciously going forward to an early death which he had little heart to seek to avoid, or even see delayed.

His death came quietly at the close of a sickness of body of eight weeks' duration. A man of gentle, undemonstrative life, he bore his burden of pain with patient, uncomplaining heart. As though a playful sephyr of a summer's evening had snuffed out a feeble flickering candle flame so gently did he die.

Mr. Partee's social interests largely centered in the various fraternal and benevolent organizations to which he gave his support. He was a member and earnestly active in the work, oc

After having spent the major portion of his life in Ohio, Mr. Partee came to Steuben County, Indiana, nine years ago. From that day forward his was a familiar figure in this community.

A farmer of intelligence and of large human sympathies, he readily won for himself an unusually large circle of devoted friends. He is sincerely mourned this day as a man of far more than average character and worth. The spirit of splendid self-respect controlled him. He disdained falsity and dishonor. His very face spoke of sincerity and a candid nature disturbed by no unhappy concealments. He was frugal, yet of generous impulses; devoted to his family, yet anxious above all things else that they might have such positions in society as rectitude and honor merit; resolute in his judgement and opinions yet not in the spirit of the bigot or senseless partisan.

That he should have been cut down in what his friends regarded as almost the prime of his life, seems most easily explicable in view of the cruel blow of affliction which befell him in the death of his princely son, some seven months ago. When that misfortune came he lost appreciably his grip on life. It was a grievous trial upon which he had no sense counted. From that day forward he was twenty-fold more easily accessible to physical weakness and ailment than he had ever been before. The zest of life for him was largely gone. He felt himself a mortal wound had been inflicted; and those who loved him thought of him as one who seemed to be consciously going forward to an early death which he had little heart to seek to avoid, or even see delayed.

His death came quietly at the close of a sickness of body of eight weeks' duration. A man of gentle, undemonstrative life, he bore his burden of pain with patient, uncomplaining heart. As though a playful sephyr of a summer's evening had snuffed out a feeble flickering candle flame so gently did he die.

Mr. Partee's social interests largely centered in the various fraternal and benevolent organizations to which he gave his support. He was a member and earnestly active in the work, occupying the office of conductor and was also chief Partriarch of Heston Encampment No. 60, of Angola Lodge No. 180, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, Lodge No. 206 Knights of Pythias, and Lodge No. 26 Pythian Sisters.

Funeral services attended by the various orders were conducted by Elder Vernon Seanffer assisted by Rev. M. S. Marble, in the M. E. Church Angola; after which the remains, accompanied by an honnorary escort of Odd Fellows and Pythian Knights, were taken to Evansport, Ohio, where another service was conducted by Elder Seauffer and where interment was had Friday April 28th

WOMEN TO HAVE PRISON

House Passes Senator Shaffer's Reformatory Bill.

Columbus, O., May 10.—By a unanimous vote the house passed Senator Shaffer's bill for the erection of a women's reformatory. All women over 16 years of age convicted of felony or misdemeanor will be confined in the new penal institution. The bill also makes it unlawful to confine a woman in a workhouse or jail for more than 30 days. The bill now goes to the governor.

The bill provides for the appointment of a commission, composed of the governor, secretary and auditor of state and secretary of the state board of charities, to purchase 200 acres of ground as a site and to supervise the erection of the buildings.

The house defeated the Kimble bill transferring Adams county from the third subdivision of the Seventh judicial district to the first subdivision of the Fifth district.

Among the bills passed by the house were the following:

Mr. Fulton of Licking—Amending the corner lot assessment law to provide that side of lot shall be fully assessed if used as frontage of buildings.

Mr. Russell of Wayne—Requiring registration of lobbyists.

The house, under suspension of the rules, adopted the following resolution by Mr. Fulton of Licking: Pro

Blake C. now a student in Ohio University. Mrs. Jennie Partee died, January 29th., 1892

Warren A. Partee, (Deceased)

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio

Pictures of Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio with pictures of Camp Sherman buildings and many pictures showing soldiers at work, etc.

Ultimately, Camp Sherman became the third largest camp in the nation during the war. The camp was named after famous Ohioan and Civil War general William Tecumseh Sherman.

The construction contract was awarded to A. Bentley & Sons of Toledo, Ohio. Approximately 2,000 acres of land were purchased for $20 an acre. Construction began on June 28, 1917, and the camp was commissioned on August 27, 1917, by Major General E. F. Glenn. The camp was nearly 95% complete in September and could house 40,000 men and 10,000 horses and mules in 2,000 nearby buildings. Before World War I ended, a total of 124,502 soldiers passed through Camp Sherman. The addition of Camp Sherman nearly quadrupled the size of Chillicothe.

In 1918, the influenza epidemic arrived at Camp Sherman. Thousands of soldiers contracted Spanish influenza in the late summer and early fall, and nearly twelve hundred died from the illness.

Dear Evelyn,

What a coincidence, you meeting Roena Boyer at the Evansport cemetery. I heard Aunt Clara Wissler speak of her so often when Roena was yet a child. I don't have Aunt Clara's obituary but do have the memorial folder which I am enclosing, also notice of Donald's death.

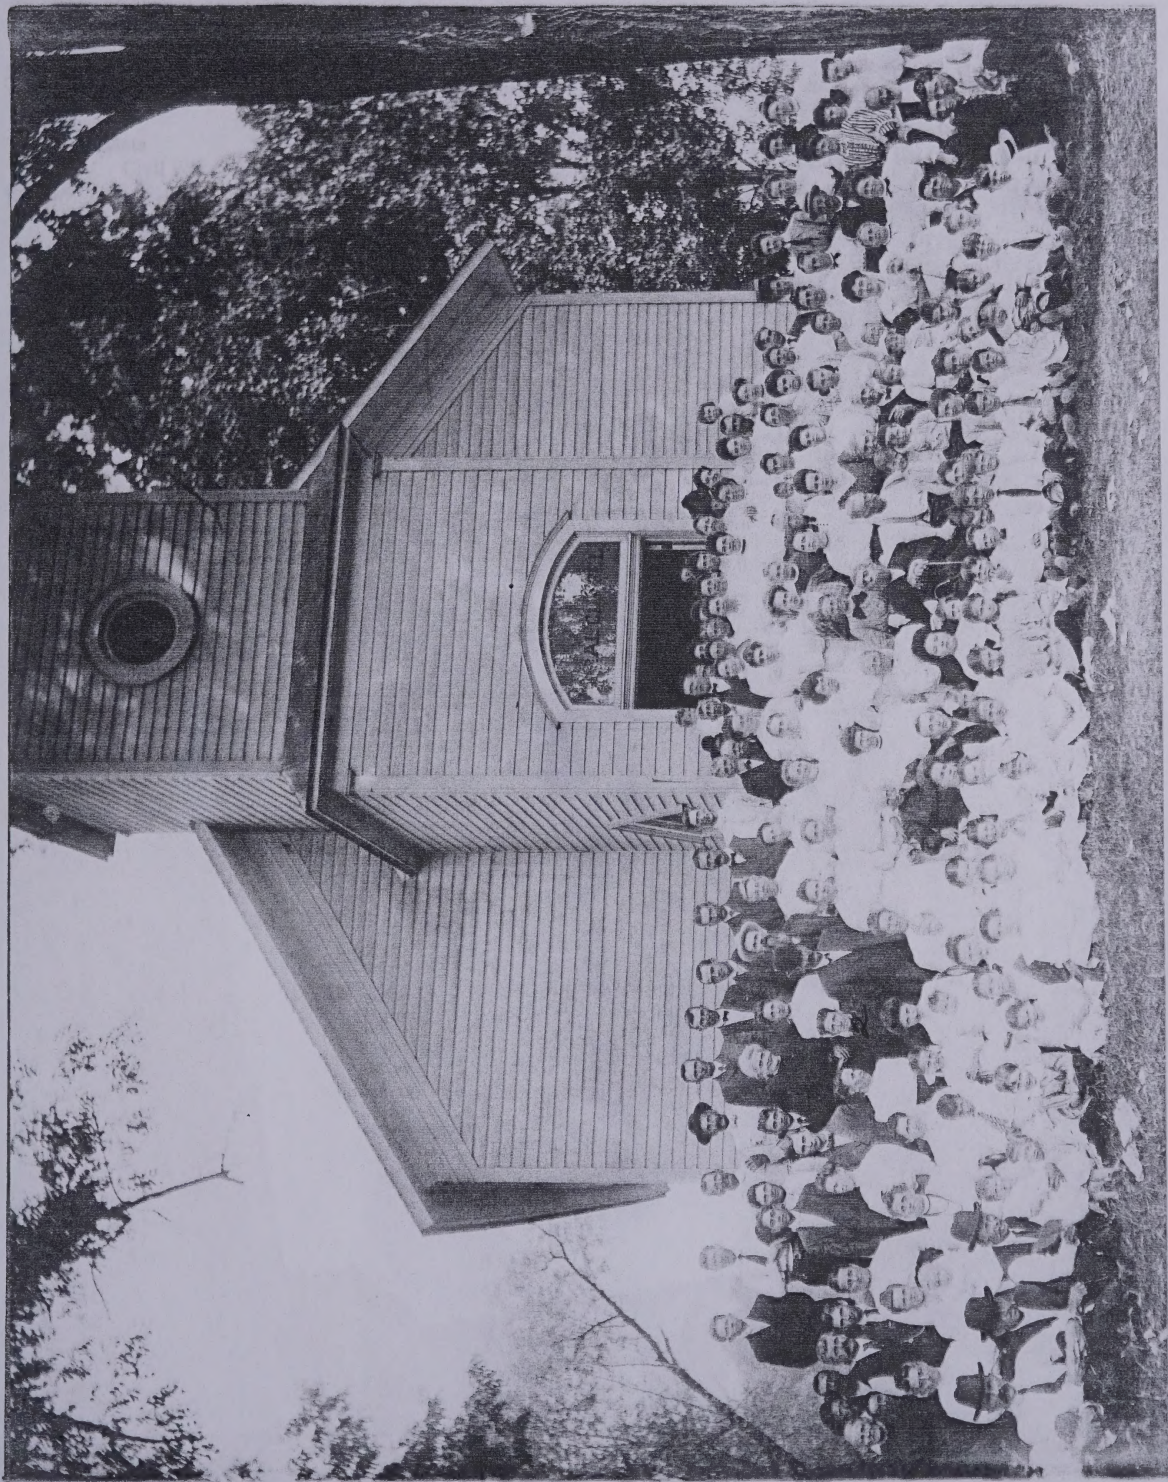

I have several reunion pictures, one is dated 1902 and the others about 1905, 1904, 1910 judging by our family; then there is one that must have been taken before the Wissler's were added as I don't recognize any of our family on it, The Brown-Partee's married so many in Wissler family the Wissler's were added to the reunion. I gave one picture to my niece that may be a duplicate of this one you sent, I'll check when I go to Ft. Wayne again. The girl on the right isn't any Wisler that I know. In the front row sitting is my oldest sister, Grace, the 3rd from the right, the 4th one is Ethel Wisler, Cullison. The second from left is Carl Wisler & the 4th one is Donald Wisler. Aunt Clara Wisler is at left edge of white door with head tilted to our left. With a magnifying glass I can identify a number of them but they are too small to mark.

If Roena would like I could have copies made of some or all of these and perhaps it would be of some help to her if she could see the larger pictures. you may give her my address if she is interested. I need a stronger magnifying glass for the cars, so if you don't mind
I'll keep it for a while.

Hope we can meet in 2 yrs. again.
Nice to hear from you, your writing is so pretty.

Love, Jo
